HOW TO GET THE MOST OF THIS COURSE

YOU ARE AWARE THAT YOU WILL NOT BE MEETING FACE TO FACE WITH YOUR LECTURER AS IN THE CONVENTIONAL CLASSROOM SITUATION. THE COURSE UNITS REPLACE THE LECTURER. YOU ARE EXPECTED TO WORK THROUGH THESE COURSE UNITS AT YOUR OWN PACE, AND AT A TIME AND PLACE THAT SUIT YOU BEST. IN THE RECORDED TEXTS IT IS THE LECTURER SPEAKING TO YOU. THE UNITS TELL YOU WHAT TO DO: WHEN TO LISTEN TO A TEXT, WHEN TO ANSWER COMPREHENSION QUESTION, WHEN TO SUMMARIZE OR UNDERTAKE ANY OTHER ASSIGNMENT. IT IS JUST IN THE SAME WAY AS A LECTURER WOULD DO IN A NORMAL CLASSROOM THAT THE STUDY UNITS DIRECT YOU IN THE EXERCISE TO UNDERTAKE AT APPROPRIATE POINTS. YOU HAVE TO FOLLOW THIS STRICTLY.

EACH OF THE STUDY UNITS FOLLOWS A COMMON FORMAT. THE FIRST ITEM IS AN INTRODUCTION TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THE UNIT. IT GIVES YOU AN IDEA OF HOW THE PARTICULAR UNIT IS INTEGRATED WITH THE OTHER UNITS AND THE COURSE AS A WHOLE. NEXT IS A SET OF LEARNING OBJECTIVES WHICH HELP YOU TO KNOW WHAT YOU SHOULD BE ABLE TO DO BY THE TIME YOU HAVE COMPLETED THE UNIT. YOU SHOULD USE THESE OBJECTIVES TO GUIDE YOUR STUDY. WHEN YOU HAVE FINISHED THE UNIT YOU MUST GO BACK AND CHECK WHETHER YOU HAVE ACHIEVED THE OBJECTIVES. IF YOU MAKE THIS YOUR HABIT YOU WILL SIGNIFICANTLY IMPROVE YOUR CHANCES OF PASSING THE COURSE.

THE MAIN BODY OF THE UNIT IS AN AURAL COMPREHENSION PASSAGE WITH THE ACCOMPANYING COMPREHENSION QUESTIONS. SELF TESTS ARE INTERSPERSED THROUGHOUT THE UNITS AND ANSWERS ARE GIVEN AT THE END OF THE UNITS. THESE TESTS ARE DESIGNED TO HELP YOU ACHIEVE THE OBJECTIVES OF THE UNIT AND PREPARE YOU FOR THE ASSIGNMENTS AND THE EXAMINATION. YOU SHOULD DO EACH TEST AS YOU COME TO IT IN THE STUDY UNIT.

THE FOLLOWING IS A PRACTICAL STRATEGY FOR WORKING THROUGH THE COURSE. IF YOU RUN INTO ANY TROUBLE, CONTACT YOUR TUTOR. REMEMBER THAT YOUR TUTOR'S JOB IS TO HELP YOU. WHEN YOU NEED HELP, DON'T HESITATE TO ASK YOUR TUTOR TO PROVIDE SUCH HELP.

1. READ THIS COURSE GUIDE THOROUGHLY
2. ORGANIZE A STUDY SCHEDULE. REFER TO THE "COURSE OVERVIEW" FOR MORE DETAILS. NOTE THE TIME YOU ARE EXPECTED TO SPEND ON EACH UNIT AND HOW THE ASSIGNMENTS RELATE TO THE UNITS, THE DATES OF YOUR TUTORIALS, DATES FOR SUBMISSION OF YOUR TUTOR-MARKED ASSIGNMENTS. ALL THIS INFORMATION SHOULD BE GATHERED IN ONE PLACE. FOR EXAMPLE, YOU COULD WRITE IT IN YOUR DIARY OR WALL CALENDAR OR AN ORGANIZER. IN OTHER WORDS, YOU SHOULD WRITE DOWN YOUR STUDY SCHEDULE.
3. HAVING ESTABLISHED YOUR STUDY SCHEDULE ENSURE THAT YOU ABIDE BY IT. DO NOT, FOR ANY REASON WORK BEHIND THIS SCHEDULE. IF YOU GET INTO ANY DIFFICULTY WITH YOUR SCHEDULE, LET YOUR TUTOR KNOW BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE FOR HELP.
4. READ THE INTRODUCTION AND THE OBJECTIVES FOR THE UNIT.
5. ASSEMBLE THE STUDY MATERIALS. INFORMATION ABOUT WHAT YOU NEED FOR A UNIT IS GIVEN IN THE "OVERVIEW" AT THE BEGINNING OF EACH UNIT.
6. IT IS IMPORTANT FOR YOU TO DO THE ASSIGNMENTS ON THEIR DUE DATES. ENSURE THAT YOU CONSULT THE ASSIGNMENT FILE

TO KNOW THE NEXT ASSIGNMENT. YOU WILL LEARN A LOT BY CAREFULLY DOING THE ASSIGNMENTS.

7. REVIEW THE OBJECTIVES FOR EACH STUDY UNIT TO CONFIRM THAT YOU HAVE ACHIEVED THEM. IF YOU FEEL UNSURE ABOUT ANY OF THE OBJECTIVES, REVIEW THE STUDY MATERIAL OR CONSULT YOUR TUTOR.
8. WHEN YOU ARE SATISFIED THAT YOU HAVE ACHIEVED A UNIT'S OBJECTIVES, YOU CAN THEN START ON THE NEXT UNIT. PROCEED UNIT BY UNIT THROUGH THE COURSE AND TRY TO PACE YOUR STUDY SO THAT YOU KEEP YOURSELF ON SCHEDULE.
9. WHEN YOU HAVE SUBMITTED AN ASSIGNMENT TO YOUR TUTOR FOR MARKING, DO NOT WAIT FOR ITS RETURN BEFORE STARTING ON THE NEXT UNIT. KEEP TO YOUR SCHEDULE. WHEN THE ASSIGNMENT IS RETURNED TO YOU, PAY PARTICULAR ATTENTION TO YOUR TUTOR'S COMMENTS, BOTH ON THE TUTOR-MARKED ASSIGNMENT FORM AND ALSO WRITTEN ON THE ASSIGNMENT. CONSULT YOUR TUTOR AS SOON AS POSSIBLE IF YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS OR PROBLEMS.
10. AFTER COMPLETING THE LAST UNIT, REVIEW THE COURSE AND PREPARE YOURSELF FOR THE FINAL EXAMINATION. CHECK THAT YOU HAVE ACHIEVED THE UNIT OBJECTIVES (LISTED AT THE BEGINNING OF EACH UNIT) AND THE COURSE OBJECTIVES (LISTED IN THIS COURSE GUIDE).

TUTORS AND TUTORIALS

THERE ARE 12 HOURS OF TUTORIALS PROVIDED IN SUPPORT OF THIS COURSE. YOU WILL BE NOTIFIED OF THE DATES, TIMES AND LOCATION OF THESE TUTORIALS, TOGETHER WITH THE NAME AND PHONE NUMBER OF YOUR TUTOR, AS SOON AS YOU ARE ALLOCATED A TUTORIAL GROUP.

YOUR TUTOR WILL MARK AND COMMENT ON YOUR ASSIGNMENTS, KEEP A CLOSE WATCH ON YOUR PROGRESS AND ON ANY DIFFICULTIES YOU MIGHT ENCOUNTER AND PROVIDE ASSISTANCE TO YOU DURING THE COURSE. YOU MUST MAIL YOUR TUTOR-MARKED ASSIGNMENTS TO YOUR TUTOR WELL BEFORE THE DUE DATE (AT LEAST TWO WORKING DAYS ARE REQUIRED). THEY WILL BE MARKED BY YOUR TUTOR AND RETURNED TO YOU AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

DO NOT HESITATE TO CONTACT YOUR TUTOR BY TELEPHONE, E-MAIL, OR DISCUSSION BOARD IF YOU NEED HELP. THE FOLLOWING MAY BE

CIRCUMSTANCES IN WHICH YOU WOULD NEED HELP. CONTACT YOUR TUTOR IF:

- YOU DO NOT UNDERSTAND ANY PART OF THE STUDY UNITS.
- YOU HAVE DIFFICULTY WITH THE SELF-TESTS OR EXERCISES.
- YOU HAVE A QUESTION OR PROBLEM WITH AN ASSIGNMENT, WITH YOUR TUTOR'S COMMENTS ON AN ASSIGNMENT OR WITH THE GRADING OF AN ASSIGNMENT.

YOU SHOULD TRY YOUR BEST TO ATTEND THE TUTORIALS. THIS IS THE ONLY CHANCE TO HAVE FACE TO FACE CONTACT WITH YOUR TUTOR AND TO ASK QUESTIONS WHICH ARE ANSWERED INSTANTLY. YOU CAN RAISE ANY PROBLEM ENCOUNTERED IN THE COURSE OF YOUR STUDY. TO GAIN THE MAXIMUM BENEFIT FROM COURSE TUTORIALS, PREPARE A QUESTION LIST BEFORE ATTENDING THEM. YOU WILL LEARN A LOT FROM PARTICIPATING ACTIVELY IN DISCUSSIONS.

1.0 INTRODUCTION

In the course of your study in secondary school, you must have come across articles. In this Unit, you will be introduced to articles in French, namely indefinite article, definite article and the partitive article. You will be taught how to use these articles, while describing a profession, appearing before geographical names, titles, when preceding an adjective, when preceding a proper noun, before the name of a language, before a day, when an article refers to a specific action, before numbers, etc. An indefinite article is used to introduce an object or a thing to the listener while the definite article elaborates on the known or partier presented object / thing.

2.0 OBJECTIVES

Upon successful completion of this unit you should be able to:

- i) Differentiate between the definite articles, indefinite articles and the partitive articles;
- ii) Use the articles to form sentences; and
- iii) Identify when they can be omitted in sentences.

3.0 MAIN BODY

3.1 How the Articles are used

- (a) The indefinite articles un, and une are used before objects-things and persons
- (b) The indefinite articles un, and une are used generally before an abstract noun qualified by an adjective.

Example: Avec un parfait amour / with a perfect love.

- un caillou d'une élégance extraordinaire
- an extraordinary elegant stone

- (c) You must take note that the indefinite article is omitted when stating a person's occupation, rank, religion or nationality.

For example:

- Bashir est Banquier / Bashir is a Banker
- Kabiru est général / Kabiru is a General
- Marie est catholique / Mary is a Catholic

3.1.1 Indefinite Article before an Adjective

But before an adjective, there must be an indefinite article to determine the adjectival phrase:

- Sadiq est un voleur / Sadiq is a thief
- Monsieur Mayowa est un avare / Mr Mayowa is greedy.
- Esthiet est un Vaurien / Esthiet is good for nothing

You can see that the examples above do not denote regular occupation but they refer to specific qualitative descriptive adjectives.

- (c) an indefinite article is used when a noun is qualified.
Example ; Raymond Gonzallez, son frère est un musicien célèbre.
- (d) But indefinite articles are not used after verbs like devenir, naître, mourir, nommer élire, créer and rester.
Example : Il devient sergent / He became a sergent
- Baba Jimeta a été élu Maire de la communauté de Yola. / Baba Jimeta has been elected as Mayor of Yola Community.
- Musa Lamba est resté simple soldat. / Musa Lamba remained a simple soldier

- (e) Before numbers like cent and mille, indefinite articles, are in used.

Example: Cent Togolais / hundred Togolises
 - mille Nigerians / Thousand Nigerians

- (f) We do not use indefinite article.
 After sans ni and quel
 Example: Quel dommage! / what a pity
 - Il est venu sans chapeau ni gants
 He came without a cape nor gloves

You have to pay special attention to the use of a in the following time phrases.

- trois fois par jour / three times a day
- Quatre fois par mois / Four times in a month
- Il gagne (=N=100 :00) Cent naira pur mois
- He earns (=N=100 :00) hundred naira a month

Self Assessment Exercise 1

You have been taught what an indefinite article is and its uses; Complete this exercise by selecting the correct indefinite article before the following noun phrases:

- petite fille
- enfant gaté
- musician célèbre

3.1.2 The definite Article, le, la, les

These are the French definite articles. They are used in presenting noun/ objects which have been discussed earlier. They generally appear before collective and common nouns in French.

- a) Examples:
- Le diamant et l'or / The diamond and the gold
 - L'homme est le plus grand créateur des créatures

Please note that only in plural form can the proper noun take an article in French e.g. Les Kofi sont venu me voir. (les Kofi sont... _)

- b) Before abstract nouns :
 Examples : -
 La vérité / The truth
 - Le courage / courage
 - Le mensonge / Lies
 - La charité / charity
- c) Before geographical names:
 Examples :
 - Le Nigeria / Nigeria
 - La Guinée / Guinea.
 - Mont Kilimanjaro / Kilimanjaro Mountain
- d) Before titles:
 Example :
 - Le roi de Kano / King of Kano
 - Le général Obasanjo / General Obasanjo
- e) Before names preceded by an adjective:
 Example :
 - Le pauvre roi. / The poor king
 - La petite Aïsatou. / Little Aïsatou
- f) Before adjectives preceding a titular / professional noun
 - Monsieur le président. / Mr. President
 - Madame la directrice. / The directresse
 - Monsieur le docteur. / The doctor
- g) Before parts of the body:
 Examples:
 - Mariam lève les bras
 Mariam lift the hands
 - Mohammed s'est cassé le cou
 Mohammed broke his neck
 - La femme a la barbe
 The bearded woman
- h) Before expressions of weight:
 Example: Trois cent vingt naira la livre
- i) Before the name of a language:
 Example: Le Houssa est une langue nigérienne
- j) Before a day of the week used in general sense:
 Example:
 Pauline assiste a mes cours le mardi

But not when the day is specified ; Monsieur Audu viendra lundi

- k) Used where possessive adjectives will be used in English
 Example: Elle entra les mains dans les poches
 She entered with hands in the pocket

Usually after avoir:

- Faridah a le front haut et les cheveux epairs
- Faridah has a bulging fore head and thin hair

- l) Action where the indefinite article would have been used in English.

Examples: Cing naira la bouteille. / =N=5.00 a bottle

- Vingt kobo la livre. 20.00a pound
- Trente naira le mètre. / =N=30 :00 a metre

N.B The French use the singular when speaking of words like head, life, hat, of which each person possesses only one.

- Then you hear Odile leur sauva la vie en Sierra Leon (Odile saved their lives in Sierra Leone)
- Monsieur Hassan et Madam Zainab secouent la tête (they shook their heads)
- Melle Marthe et Monsieur. Pierre otèrent le chapeau (they took off their hats)

*Note Otèrent le chapeau
 Otèrent leurs chapeaux

3.1.3 Omission of Articles in French

- (m) articles are not used with
- (1) collective compound nouns – madame, monsieur
 - (2) with proper nouns that are singular. Olu, Ade .

But we use it when monsieur, madame, mademoiselle precede names

Example - Monsieur le docteur

- Monsieur le président
- Madame le professeur

- (n) In some proverbs and idioms as avoir besoin de, trouver moyen de, changer d'avis tenir tête a

- (o) In headings, book titles, notices, postal addresses.
- Dictée

- Grammaire
- Livre I chapitre 3
- Histoire de France

(p) In enumeration, the article comes after the noun (but not necessarily) omitted.

Examples:

- enfants, hommes, femmes, tous étaient présents au cocktail.

Self Assessment Exercise 2

Having seen the definite article and its uses, now do this exercise. Select the definite article that matches the underlisted:

- | | | |
|-----------|------------|-----------|
| - Table | - Femmes | - cahier |
| - Radio | - Chaise | - garçon |
| - Maison | - Voitures | - enfants |
| - Marmite | - tête | |

You have learned about the definite articles and their uses, you will now be introduced to the Partitive article in the next section.

3.1.4 The Partitive Article (les articles partitifs)

The Partitive articles, as the name implies are articles formed as a result of grammatical partition of a proposition de or a and the indefinite and definite articles. These partitive articles could be seen in singular, plural, masculine as well as feminine forms. Examples are as follows:

- (a) J'ai besoin d'un bon exemple pour vous prouver juste.
I need a good example to prove you right
- (b) J'apprends la nouvelle d'une fille
I learnt a girl's story
- (c) Tunde va au Togo semaine prochaine
Tunde will go to Togo next week
- (d) Fatima vient du cinéma
Fatima is coming from the cinema
- (e) Il est né aux états unies
- (f) Nous mangeons de la viande
We are eating meat
- (g) Vous allez a léglise ? d
Are you going to the Church ?
- (h) Venez – vous des Etats unies
Are you from the United States ?
- (i) Les professeurs vont à la Guinée Espagnol

You should note that the underlined words such as 'un, d'une, d'un, à la, à l', au, aux, du, de la, des, de l' etc are partitive articles. It is easy to explain the grammatical formation of d'un, d'une' de la' de l', à la etc that shows easily the existence of the preposition the indefinite and definite articles respectively. But you are implored to note how it is formulated, that is how, the partitive articles are formulated just as in the following examples:

- a) à + le = au
- b) à + la = à la
- c) à + les = aux
- d) de + un = d'un
- e) de + une = d'une
- f) de + la = de la
- g) de + la = de la
- h) de + l' = de l'
- i) de + les = des

De la is used before feminine objects, things etc. De la denotes the English word some or of the De is used before masculine objects, things etc, to denote the English word some or of the Des is the plural of objects, things, persons, etc. The partitive article must be used, therefore when some is understood in English.

For example: Mairo mange du pain de la viande et des pommes de terre et elle boit de l'eau

Mairo is eating bread some meat, and some Irish potatoes and she is drinking water.

All these become de after negative

Examples :

- Je n'ai pas de viande
I have no meat
- Il n'ya pas d'illumettes
There are no matches

But after expression of quantity or after verbs of quality

Example:

- un morceau de viande
a piece of meat
- autant de livres much books
- un litre d'huile de Palm one litre of palm oil
- tant de livres

- many books
- peu d'eau
- a little water
- combine de livres?

When an adjective precedes the noun –

Examples:

- beaucoup de mondes
many people
- De belles maisons
Beautiful house
- De bons amis
good friends

But when an adjective or a noun came together to form a single idea like in;

- des jeunes gems young men
- des jeunes filles young girls
- des petits entants young children
- des petits poids
little weights

It is habitual to use des instead of de, Bien encore, la plupart are followed by des plus the article.

Example :

- Bien des gens
most people
- La plupart des livres
most books
- voulez vous encore de la viande ?
would you like some meat again
- Bien du pain more bread
- Bien de la biere

- Je ne bois que de l'esu
I only take water
- Bien des fois
most of the time

1.0 INTRODUCTION

This unit will introduce you to nouns in French. Just as there are nouns in the study of English language, so also you can find nouns in French language. All nouns in French are either masculine or feminine. But this classification by gender is somehow complex. Nouns are used to denote things either animate or inanimate, and the gender is purely coincidental. For people and animals the gender is determined by the sex. The two nouns may then belong to the same family. Let us look at the classification of nouns.

People

Masculine

Le fils (m) - son
 Le garçon (m) - boy
 L'homme (m) - man
 Le héros (m) - hero
 Le dieu(m) - god
 Le oncle (m) - uncle

Feminine

La mademoiselle– lady
 La fille – girl
 La femme – woman
 La héroïne – heroine
 La déesse – Goddess
 La tante – aunt

2.0 OBJECTIVES

At the end of this Unit you should be able to:

- i) Define a noun;
- ii) Distinguish the feminine nouns from the masculine nouns;

- iii) Make use of the noun in a sentence correctly; and
- iv) State when the exceptions can be applied i.e. sometimes in French a noun denotes both male and female, like “une personne”, la police, la peau, “une image” etc.

3.0 THE MAIN CONTENT

3.1 The Process of Noun Formation

In French you will come across nouns classified according to their gender, either feminine or masculine, just as it has been explained to you in the introduction of this Unit.

Animals

Masculine

Le cheval
Le coq
Le singe
Le taureau

Feminine

La jument
La poule
La guenon
La vache

- a) Some nouns have the same form in both masculine and feminine. You must be aware of the fact that there are exceptions to the rule in French grammar. When you want to use the following nouns in a sentence, bear in mind that they have the same gender for feminine and masculine. Example;

Masculine

L'artiste
Le camarade
La touriste

Feminine

L'artiste
La camarade
La touriste

- b) Normally in French the feminine of a noun is formed by adding an e to the masculine form. You can see that in the list of nouns below:

Masculine

Le cousin
L'ami
L'étudiant

Feminine

La Cousine – (cousin)
L'amie – friend
L'étudiante – student

3.2 The Feminine of Nouns

You will observe that the formation of the feminine all ended with an “e” which means you can easily differentiate the masculine noun from the feminine noun.

For some masculine nouns ending in “n” or “t”, the consonant n will be doubled before ending an “e” to form the feminine. Look at the list below:

Masculine	Feminine
Le lion	La lionne
Le paysan	La paysanne
Le chat	La Chatte
Le Cadet	La Cadette

- (d) You will notice some form of feminine noun ending in “er”. Being formed with ère like this list below;

Masculine	Feminine
Le boulanger	La boulangère
L'étranger	L'étrangère
L'ouvrier	L'ouvrière
Le couturier	La couturière

- (e) The feminine form of a noun ending in “eur” can be formed with – euse – For example; flatteur - flatteuse
- (f) You will also come across some masculine nouns ending in “teur” that later end in trice in the feminine. Like the following:

Masculine	Feminine
Le directeur	La directrice
L'inspecteur	L'inspectrice
Le manipulateur	La manuplatrice

- (g) You must pay attention, a few nouns in “eur” do not have feminine even when describing a female.

Example: Le chauffeur
Le professeur
Le docteur

Self Assessment Exercise 1

Having studied and known what a noun is all about, the masculine and the feminine of nouns, complete this exercise.

Give the feminine of the following masculine nouns:

- (a) Le garçon
- (b) Le boulanger
- (c) Le maçon
- (d) Le coiffeur
- (e) Le chauffeur
- (f) Le lion
- (g) Le chat
- (h) L-artiste
- (i) Le coq
- (j) L'inspecteur

Note: A few nouns whether referring to male or female are always feminine. For example:

une relation
La personne
La victime

There are few nouns, whether referring to male or female that are always masculine. Example;

Masculine

L'auteur
Le diplomate
L'écrivain
Le juge
Le peintre
Le poète
Le soldat
Le témoin

Some nouns ending in “f” change to “ve” in the feminine. Examples of such are:

Masculine

Le juif
Le veuf

Feminine

La juive
La veuve

Most nouns ending in “x” change to “se” in the feminine.

For example,

Masculine

L' époux

L'orgueilleux

Feminine

L'épouse

L'orgueilleuse

Noms

3.2.1 Les Noms Pluriels (Plural Nouns)

The Plural of nouns is usually formed by adding “s” to the singular form. This is true of both masculine and feminine nouns.

For example:

Feminine

La maison (f)

Le patron (m)

La patronne (f)

P

Plural

Les maisons (f, p)

Les Patrons (N.P)

Les Patronnes

(f.p)

- (b) Nouns ending in “x” “s,” or “z” do not change in the plural form.

Examples :

Singular

Le poids (m)

La croix (f)

Le pils (m)

Le nez (m)

Plural

Les poids (p)

Les croix (p)

Les pils (p)

Les nez (p)

- (c) Nouns ending in “al” change “aux” in the plural form apart from some noun like bal which takes “s” to form the plural form.

Examples

Singular

Le canal

Le journal

L'hôpital

Le cheval

Le rival

Plural

Les canaux

Les journaux

Les hôpitaux

les chevaux

les rivaux

Note : Surnames do not change when they are in plural form :

Example:

Koffi est venu avec sa famille

- Les Koffi sont venus nous voir-

- (d) Nouns ending in “au”, eau or “eu”, take ‘aux’ “eux” in the plural form

Example

Singular	Plural
Le noyau	Les noyaux
Le manteau	Les manteaux
Le jeu	Les jeux

- (e) Apart from bijou, caillou, chou, genou, hibou and joujou that take an additional “x” to form their plural, all nouns that end in “ou” take additional “s”:

Example:

Singular	Plural
un fou	des fous
un Indou	Les Indous
Le trou	Les trous

- (f) There are some few nouns with irregular plurals

Example:

Singular	Plural
Le ciel	Les cieux
L’oeil	Les yeux

Bear in mind that from these plural forms, just as you were told earlier, there are some exceptions to the “rule” of French language, and these exceptions are often more in number than the rule so you must pay much attention to that.

- (g) Nouns ending with an “ail” form the plural “s” except for a few examples;

Singular	Plural
Le travail	Les travaux
Le vitrail	Les vitraux

The regular nouns that form their plurals with an “s” are:

Singular	Plural
-----------------	---------------

Le rail
Le detail

Les rails
Les details

- (h) The plural form of some compound nouns are derived by
- (j) adding “s” to the two words concerned if the compound noun is formed by the combination of noun + noun, adjective + noun, or noun + adjective. Example:

- (q) chef – lieu = chefs = lieux (N + N)
(r) bonhomme = bonhommes (A + N)
(s) Coffre – fort = coffres – forts (N + A)

The few exceptions in this rule are : Soutiens gorge (N + N), Timbres – Poste (N + N) nouveaunes (A + N)

- (i) In a situation where the compound noun formed by the combination of a noun and complement, which is introduced by a preposition, only the noun will have the plural mark: Example;

- (t) Pot de vin = Pots de vin
(u) Eau de vie= eaux de vie
(v) Salle a manger = Salles a manger

- (j) Plural form of foreign nouns in French follow the grammatical rule of their original language when changing to plural :
- un gentleman = des gentlemen
 - Le sportman = les sportmen

- (k) You will also come across some nouns usually used in the plural form. Example

Les oiseaux	Les gens
Les environs	Les lunettes
Les fianciailles	Les mathématiques
Les frais	Les moeurs
Les funeraillles	Les vacances

Note : Le ciseau (chisel) la lunette (a kind of telescope) and la vacance (vacancy) carry different meaning in the singular.

Having studied the plural of nouns, just reflect on what you have learned in this aspect by answering the exercises below:

3.2.2 Self Assessment Exercise 2

Give the plural form of the following nouns.

- | | |
|-------------------|----------------|
| (a) le boulanger | (e) Le patrons |
| (b) la menteuse | (f) Le croix |
| (c) le professeur | (g) Le canaux |
| (d) le menteau | (h) Le jeux |

3.2.3 Noms Composés – Compound Nouns

In French, we have nouns compounded out of fused words. These nouns form their plurals as one word nouns. For example :

Singular

un passport un purboire un portefeuille

Plural

des passports des purboires
des portefeuilles

while others form their plurals with each of the two words such as;

Singular

monsieur madame mademoiselle

Plural

messieurs mesdames mesdemoiselles

Singular

unbonhomme un gentilhomme

Plural

des bonshommes
des gentils hommes

Note : The various rules (and their exceptions) for the plural formation of compound nouns are so complex, even for a French speaker, only a few general statements will be made here, some compound nouns that are composed from adjectives and nouns pluralise both parts of the compound noun, such as;

Singular

Le beau-frère
Le choufleur
Le Cerf-volant
Le rouge – gorge
Le Coffre – fort

Plural

Les beaux frères (brother in law)
Les choux fleurs (Cauli Howers)
Les cerfs-volants (Kites)
Les rouges – gorges (Robins)
Les Coffres – forts (Safes)

Some compound nouns composed of verbs and nouns do not change in the plural. Example :

Singulier/singular	Pluriel/plural
Le Casse/cou	Les Casses-Cou (dare devils)
Le gratte-ciel	Les grattes-ciel (sky-scrapers)
Le coup-papier	Les rendez-vous
(appointment)
Le porc-brise	Les porcs-brise (wind-shield)

Some compound nouns that are composed from verbs and nouns pluralise the nouns only such as:

Singulier/singular	Pluriel/plural
Le Couvre lit	Les couvre-lits (Bed covers)
Le passe-montagne	Les passe-montagne
Le pique-nick	Les pique-nicks
(pick nicks)
Le porte-paraphie	Les portes-parapluies (umbrella hanger)

The following compound nouns take an “s” in the singular but do not change in the plural. Example:

- Le Casse-missette (nut cracke)
- Le cure – dents (tooth pick)
- Le Chasse – mouches (fly’s watter)
- Le port – bagages (luggage rack)
- Le porte – avions (air-craft carrier)

3.2.4 Compound Nouns Containing Preposition

Compound nouns that contain a preposition are often invariable. Example;

- Le, les pieds – à – terre / temporary, lodging
- Le, les hors – d’oeuvres / appetizers

But, le chef – d’oeuvres, les chefs – d’oeuvres (master pieces)

L'arc – en-ciel, les arcs – en-ciel (rainbows) whenever a compound noun is composed of certain invariable words, that word always remaining invariable.

For example:

L'après-midi (masculine)
Les après-midi (afternoons)

An adjective that is part of a compound noun is pluralised such as:

Singulier/singular

Le nouveau-né
Le nouveau-venu

Le dernier-né

Pluriel/plural

Les nouveaux-nés Le nouveaux-venus (new comers)

Les derniers-nés
(Last-born children)

You will discover in French grammar, that words borrowed from other languages take an “s” in the plural form for example ;

Singulier/singular

L'agenda (m)
L'album (m)
L'alibi (m)
Le club (m)
Le forum (m)
La jeep (m)

Pluriel/plural

Les agenda
Les albums
Les alibis
Les clubs
Les forums
Les jeeps

- (a) L'auteur
- (b) Le poète
- (c) Le juge
- (d) Le diplomate
- (e) Le soldat

They are parts of the exception of the French words that do not have the feminine gender.

1.0 INTRODUCTION

In Unit 2 you have studied nouns in French and their uses. In this unit you will be taught about French pronouns and their uses.

2.0 OBJECTIVES

By the end of this unit you should be able to:

- (i) Differentiate a pronoun from a noun;
- (ii) Use French pronoun in sentences; and
- (iii) Determine where to position pronouns while making sentences in French.

3.0 MAIN BODY

3.1 What is a pronoun?

A pronoun is a grammatical word that can be used to replace a noun in a given sentence. There are different types of pronouns, the personal pronouns, the interrogative pronouns, the demonstrative pronouns, reflexive pronoun and the possessive pronouns. We shall take them one after the other as the case may be.

3.3 The Personal Pronouns and How they are Used

A Personal pronoun can be used as a subject of a verb. The speaker is called the first person, the one spoken to is the second person; and the one spoken of is the third person. They could all be in singular or in plural forms.

	Singulier/singular	Pluriel/plural
1st Person	Je	Nous
2 nd Person	tu	vous
3rd Person	Il/Elle	Ils/Elles

On is a convenient indefinite pronoun used only as a subject. Commonly used in everyday conversation, it can have the meaning of “we” “someone” “one” “people” “everyone”. In writing, it can also mean “I” “he” “she” “You” “they”. When “on” is used with “être” or with an adjective, the verb être of the adjective accords with the number and gender of the person or persons represented by “on”.

Look at these sentences:

“On” va au cinéma? - Shall we go to the cinema?
Ah bon! j’en doute! - Oh! I doubt it !

There are two pronouns in French used to express “you “tu” and “vous”. The familiar “tu” is used to address relatives, friends, class mates, children, subordinates, and animals. “Vous” is used when speaking to an adult, a superior, a stranger or more than one person.

For example :

Marc as-tu fini de taquiner ton frère?
Marc will you stop teasing your brother ?

Bonjour Madame Alpha. Comment allez-vous?
Good morning Mrs. Alpha. How are you?

Bonjour mes enfants. Comment allez vous?
Good morning children, how are you?

3.3 The Position of “Il” and “Elle”

Il and Elle stand for persons (“he” or “she”) as well as for animals and inanimate objects well (“it”). The gender of the pronoun is the same as the gender of the noun it replaces.

You can see this from the following sentences:

- (a) Jean se promene avec son chien. IL en est très fier.
Jean is taking a walk with his dog. He is very proud of it
- (b) J'aime la vitesse mais elle tue
I like speed but it kills
- (c) Ma chatte est gourmande. Elle mange toute la journée.

My cat is a glutton. It (She) eats all day long. If you observe very well, in sentence (a) you can see that the name Jean was replaced by IL. In sentence (b), La vitesse was replaced by the pronoun, Elle instead of repeating la vitesse; Elle takes its position. In sentence (c), La Chatte which is the subject was replaced by Elle.

Having studied the personal pronouns and their uses, complete these exercises.

Self Assessment Exercise 1

Underline the pronouns in the following sentences.

- (a) La fille est malade, Elle ne mange pas
- (b) Pierre ne mange plus les mangues, il en a assez.
- (c) Patricia et moi n'allons pas à la plage. On_ va au marché.

3.4 Emphatic Pronouns

The emphatic pronoun to the subject pronouns the emphatic pronouns are:

Singulier/singular	Pluriel/plural moi	nous
toi	vous
lui	eux
Elle	Elles
Soi

The emphatic pronouns are used to emphasize the subject or the object in declarative or interrogative sentences. For example:

J'abite à Paris. Et toi?
I live in Paris. And you?
Où est-ce-que tu l'as connu lui?
Where did you meet him ?

Usually an emphatic pronoun is used after a preposition as in these sentences.

- a). Voulez-vous tous Promenez avec moi?
Do you want to go for a walk with me ?
- b.) Mettez vous derrière lui.
Go behind him,

In the first sentence, the emphatic pronoun came after the preposition avec while in the second sentence, the emphatic pronoun lui came later after the preposition derrière.

The emphatic pronouns are used after verbs that take the proposition à and de and after verbs of motion such as the following sentences.

Je penserai a toi / I'll think of you
Laissez venire a moi / Let the little children come to me
Les petits enfants.
Il se mefie de toi / He is suspicious of you.

An emphatic pronoun can be used with ce and être. Like in these sentences.

Qui est le plus bête ? C'est lui
Who is the stupidest ? It's him.
Ce sont eux qui le disent.
They are (the people) saying it.

The emphatic pronoun can also be used after an order. When en is used, moi and toi became m' and t'. Like in these sentences:

Ecoute-moi! / Listen to me!
Parlez-men ! / Talk to me about it!

3.4.1 The Use of the Pronoun 'Soi'

Soi as a pronoun is used after a preposition when the subject of the verb is "on"; "Chacun" or "personne". For example:

- (a) Chacun pour soi / To each his own
(b) On n'a jamais confiance / one only trust oneself.
(a) Qu 'en soi même

Même after emphatic pronoun is used to personalize the emphasize so as to relate with the used pronouns e.g.the idea of "self"

Look at the following sentences:

Je préfère le faire moi même / I prefer to do it myself
 C'est eux- même qui me l'ont dit. They told me themselves

3.4.2 Reflexive Pronouns

Reflexive Pronouns are those used with pronominal verbs (S'habiller, Se reveiller, se laver, se lever). They too correspond to the subject pronouns.

Singulier/singular	Pluriel/plural
me	nous te	vous
se	se

'se' is also used with the infinitives and 'habiller'. ('to get dressed'); se lever ("to get up")

Look at the following sentences:

Nous nous amusons à la ville / We enjoy ourselves in town.
 Vous vous ennuyez à la campagne / You are getting bored in the country.

Self Assessment Exercise 2

Use the following verbs to make a sentence- se laver, se promener.

3.4.3 Direct Object Pronouns

The direct object pronoun receives the action of the verb. It is placed before the verb.

Singulier/singular	Pluriel/plural
me/me	nous/us
te/you	vous/you
le/him	les/them
la/her/it

Look at the following sentences:

- Si tu n'es pas gentille je ne t'aimerai plus / If you are not nice, I won't love you any more.
- Ma vieille robe? Je l'ai donnée aux pauvres. / My old dress ? I gave it to the poor.
- Le jeune chien la léchait gentiment / The young dog licked her gently.

If you look at the first sentence, 't' represents the direct object pronoun which is te.

In sentence (b), I represents the direct object pronoun which is robe.

In sentence (c), la represents the direct object pronoun of feminine gender.

3.4.4 The Direct Pronoun

The direct pronoun denotes the person to, for, or from whom something is given, told, sent etc.

It is placed before the verb:

Singulier/singular

me / to me te / to you lui / to him / to her

Pluriel/plural

nous/to us vous/to you leur/to them

like in the following sentences:

- Maman va leur téléphoner / Mama is going to phone them.
- Je lui ai donné leur numéro / I gave her their phone number
- Est-ce-que je te l 'ai donné aussi / Did I give it to you also?

In the first sentence "leur" represented the indirect object pronoun.
In the second sentence "lui" represented the indirect object pronoun.
In the third sentence "te" represented the indirect object pronoun.

Table of Personal Pronouns

Subject	Direct Object	Indirect Object	Reflexive je (j')	me (m')	me (m')	me (m')
tu	te (t')	te (t')	te (t')
Il/Elle	le (l')	lui	se (s') on	le (l')	lui	se (s')
Nous	la (l')	nous	nous
Vous	Nous	vous	vous
Ils/Elles	Les		se{s'}

Emphatic

moi	nous
toi	vous
lui/Elle	eux
Soi	elles

3.4.5 Double Object Pronouns

More than one object pronoun may be used in a sentence. In that case, the pronouns appear in a certain order before the verb.

Singulier/singular

me te le (l') lui se la, (l') leur

Pluriel/plural

nous, les vous en verb

Look at these sentences.

- (a) Je le lui ai dit hier. / I said it to him yesterday
- (b) Nous lui en avais parlé / We speak to him about it yesterday
- (c) Tu les y'as vues? / Did you see them there?

1.0 INTRODUCTION

In this Unit, you will be introduced to adjectives and their functions. You should be familiar with what an adjective is in the course of your French studies in the secondary school. An adjective is a grammatical word that is used to qualify a noun, a person, an object, and even another adjective in a given sentence. In French, an adjective must agree in gender and number with what ever it qualifies. In other words, it is used as a direct nominal modifier or a predicator. It qualifies nouns, persons, or objects in the masculine, feminine singular or masculine, feminine plural. For example:

Masculine, feminine, singular and plural

Le cahier vert – the green note book

La robe verte – the green dress

Les cahiers verts – the green note books

Les robes vertes – the green dresses

Le cahier et la robe sont verts – The note book and the dress are green.

2.0 OBJECTIVES

By the end of this study you will be able to:

- (i) Identify an adjective;
- (ii) Classify the types of adjective in French; and
- (iii) Make use of french adjectives in sentences correctly.

3.0 MAIN CONTENT

3.1 Classification of Different Types of Adjectives

There are five adjectives, namely the qualitative adjective, possessive adjectif, demonstrative, interrogative and, indefinite adjectives. Each of these adjectives when used in a sentence must agree in number and gender with the noun it is qualifying. We shall study them one by one.

3.1.1 The Demonstrative Adjective

- (i) There is the singular form ce, cet (masculine) cette (feminine) This, that.
 plural form – ces; these, those.

The demonstrative adjective precedes and agrees in number and gender with the noun it modifies. The noun masculine form set is used before a noun beginning with a vowel or a mute “h”

Example:

Ce matin – this morning

Cet été – this, that summer

Cette plage – this (that) beach

Ces millions de bain – these, those, swimming suits.

- (ii) When it is necessary to make a distinction between “this” and “that” or “these” and “those” – “Ca” and “la” may be added to the noun – “ci” referring to things close to the speaker, “là” things at a distance. Examples:

“ce” plat “ci” est meilleur que ce plat – “là”.

This dish is better than that dish.

A demonstrative adjective exhibit the noun it qualifies. For example;

- “ce” livre et “cette” lampe

This book and this lamp.

- ces garçons et ces filles
These boys and these girls

However when a noun is preceded by several descriptive adjectives applying to the noun, the demonstrative adjective is not repeated.

Example;

- Ce bel et bon homme
This beautiful and good man.

3.1.2 The Possessive Adjective

The possessive adjectives are placed before the noun and agree in number and in gender with the thing possessed, not the possessor. We have the masculine and feminine, singular and masculine plural of possessive adjectives for examples;

Masculine Singular

Mon, ton, son
My, your, his/her

Feminine Singular

ma, ta sa
my, your, her (her)

Masculine and feminine plural

Mes, tes, ses
My, your, his (her)
Nos, vos, leur
Our, your, their

Masculine and Feminine Singular

Mon crayon	-	my pencils
Ton stylo	-	your pen
Son frère	-	his (her) brother
Ma table	-	my table
Ta chaise	-	your chair
Sa soeur	-	her sister
Mes cahiers	-	my note books
Tes livres	-	your text books

Masculine and Feminine Singular

Ses parents	-	his (her) parents
Notre maison	-	our house
Votre appartement	-	your apartment
Leur mère	-	their mother
Nos voitures	-	our cars
Vos télévision	-	your television
Leurs parents	-	their parents
Mes cahiers	-	my note books

Tes livres - your text books

Note: Before a noun beginning with a vowel, or a mute “h” the masculine forms mon, ton, and son are used instead of ma, ta, and sa.

Example:

Mon aventure (feminine) my adventure

Ton heritage (feminine) - Your heritage.

Son équipe (feminine) his (her) team.

Self Assessment Exercise 1

Having been taught about the demonstrative adjective and the possessive adjectives, look at the sentences below, and place them with under, masculine singular or feminine singular.

- (a) C’est un national
- (b) Cet été je voyagerai
- (c) Elle aime cette plage
- (d) Cet home est gentil
- (e) Ces filles ne sont pas contentes
- (f) Cette veste m’appartient

3.1.3 Interrogative Adjectives

	Masculine		Feminine
Singular	Quel	Quel bruit	Quelle	Quelle idée
Plural	Quels	Quels amis	Quelles	Quelles jolies robes

3.1.4 Qualificative Adjective (Adjectif Qualificatifs)

The commonest and the greatest number of the adjectives are the qualificative adjectives. They describe the noun they are qualifying.

Example: un petit garçon (A small boy).

3.1.5 The Position of a Qualificative Adjective

A qualificative adjective in French could be placed before a noun (anté posé), after the noun (postposé) and before or after the noun (anté ou postposé)

- (i) Les Antéposés: French qualificative adjectives that express beauty, stature age, quality of good or bad usually come before the noun they qualify in French. Qualificative adjectives in this category are: Beau (beautiful), bon (good), grand (big), gros (but), haut (high) jeune (young), joli (pretty, nice), long (long) mauvais (bad), meilleur (better), petit (small, little) vieux (old), nouveau (new); faux (wrong), vrai (true).

Examples:

- (a) un livre détaillé - A detailed book
 (b) un homme intéressant – An interesting man
 (c) une information original - original information
- (ii) Les anté ou posposés: Some qualificative adjectives in French could be placed either before or after the noun they are qualifying. But each of these adjectives would have a different meaning when they come before the noun or after the noun: i.e. the meaning. Their meaning when they occur before the noun would have changed from their meaning when they occur after the noun:
- | | |
|---|--|
| - Ancien: un ancien élève
(An ex-pupil) | un maison ancienne
(An ancient house) |
| - Brâve: un brave homme
(A fine man) | un homme brave
(A brave (courageous) man) |
| - Certain: un certain document
(A particular document) | une information certaine
(A proved information) |
| - cher: mon cher père
(my dear father) | un livre cher
(an expensive book) |
| - Dernier :le dernier mois
(last month December) | le mois dernier
(the last month finished) |
| - Dur: un dur métier
(a difficult job } | un metal dur
(a hard metal) |
| - Grand: un grand homme
(a great (big) man) | un homme grand
(a tall man) |
| - Meme:même montre
(the same identical watch) | la montre même
(the watch also) |
| - pauvre: Le Pauvre homme!
(poor fellow) | Un homme pauvre
(a poor man) |
| - Propre: mon propre livre
(my own book) | mon pantalon propre
(my clean trousers) |

3.1.6 Agreement of Qualificative Adjectives:

When an adjective that ends in consonant is qualifying a masculine singular noun, the form of this adjective will not change. But when it is qualifying a feminine noun, an additional “e” is added, an additional “s” is added if it is qualifying a masculine plural noun. But it will be an additional “es” when it is marking feminine plural noun: Examples:

- | | | |
|----------------------|---|--------------|
| - un petit garçon | - | A small boy |
| - une petite fille | - | A small girl |
| - Des petits garçons | - | Small boys |
| - Des petites filles | - | Small girls |

Note: Adjectives ending in s or x do not change in their plural form when they are marking masculine plural nouns. Examples:

- Les gros hommes sont affreux.

1. Some adjectives, with some specific consonants ending them, change their spellings and pronunciation when they are used with feminine nouns: Examples:

- EI: Bel = belle, naturel = naturelle
- EI: Pareil = Pareille
- F: Neuf = neuve, actif = active, bref = brève
- Er: Complet = complète, secrèt = secrète
- En: Européen = Européene
- IEN: Ancien = Ancienne
- II: Gentil = Gentille
- ON: Bon = Bonne
- AN: Paysan = Paysanne
- ER: Leger = légère, flatteux = flatteuse
- EUX: Heureux = hereuse, joyeux = joyeuse
- OUX: Jaloux = Jalouse
- S: Gross: Grosse, bas = basse, épais = épaisse

The feminine plural of qualificative adjectives in this category is formed by an additional s to the feminine singular form.

2. There are some qualificative adjectives although their formation of feminine form is also irregular, they are different in nature to those explained above: Example:

- C: blanc = blanche, sec = seche
White dry
- Ux: dou = douce, faux = fausse
- U: mou = molle, fou = folle
- Is: frais = fraîche
- T: sot = sotté
- G: long=longue
- Ic: public=publique

- I: favori = favorite

Feminine plural is formed by adding ‘s’ to the feminine singular.

3. There are some special irregular qualificative adjectives that have two form of masculine singular. Their first masculine singular form is usually ending in vowel – beau. But when this type is to be followed by a noun whose initial letter is a vowel too, there will arise a new pronunciation, another form of masculine qualificative adjective with ending in consonant is introduced (bel) to be used in the place of the first one (beau) when the adjective is to follow any word with a vowel or a silent “h” for example:

- (i) beau – bel = un bel avion, un bel homme
- (ii) nouveau – nouvel = un nouvel étudiant
- (iii) vieux – viel = un viel ami
- (iv) fou – fol = un fol amour

Note that feminine singular, masculine plural, and feminine plural of these adjectives are not affected by this irregularity.

- (v) beau, belle, beaux, belles
- (vi) nouveaux, nouvelle, nouveaux, nouvelles
- (vii) fou, folle, fous, folles
- (viii) vieux, vieille, vieux, vieilles

3.1.7 Interrogative Adjectives (adjectifs interrogatifs)

Although they are used much as mark of exclamation in sentences they perform the functions of adjective. They agree in gender and in number with the noun they are qualifying. They are:

- (i) Quel (mas, sing): Quel livre
- (ii) Quelle (fem, sing): Quelle fille qui chante bien!
- (iii) Quels (mas, plur): Quels enfants ‘intelligents?’
- (iv) Quelles (fem, plur): Quelles maisons?

3.1.9 Indefinite Adjectives (Adjectifs indéfinis)

Note: You must be very careful while studying the indefinite adjectives or else it will be taken to be indefinite pronouns. They look so much alike that even a good grammarian has to differentiate them with the aid of the functions they perform in a given sentence. Their examples are as follows:

- (i) Quelques étudiants ont volé mes livres
- (ii) Plusieurs élèves échoueraient cette année
- (iii) Certain garçon parmi vous est un voleur
- (iv) J'ai lu différent livres sur diverses matières
- (v) Chaque soldier doit aller à la guerre
- (vi) Vous pouvez commander toute une nation
- (vii) Je n'aime pas cette paraille sottise que tous ces livres racontent.

Note: The indefinite adjectives agree also in number and in gender with the noun they are qualifying.

Having learned the various adjectives, the qualificative, the possessive, the demonstrative adjectives, the plural and singular forms of adjectives, the masculine and feminine forms, do the following exercises:

Self Assessment Exercise 2

From the list of adjectives and names of objects, choose and match them to form a sentence placing each word in its right position.

2.0 OBJECTIVES

By the end of this unit, you should be able to:-

- (i) Conjugate verbs into présent, past and future tenses;
- (ii) Classify verbs; and
- (iii) Make use of verbs in sentences.

3.0 MAIN CONTENT

3.1 How the Verbs are divided

In French, verbs are divided into three groups. You have the first group which has – “er” at the end of the infinitive e.g verbs like “Aimer”, in the first person, j'aime.

The second group is the verb with an – “ir” ending and the present ends in s while the present participle in “issant” e.g Finir (infinitif) “je finis” (present)

The third group contains all other verbs; aller, the verbs with – ir that have no present indicative tense in “is” and the present participle in – issant; e.g. cueillir, partir; and verbs that have their endings as oir or ir e.g. “recevoir”; “rendre”. But you must note that most of the newly created verbs are of the first group like; “téléviser”, “atamiser”, radiographier, etc while others are of second group like “amertir”.

3.1.1 THE PRESENT TENSE – ER VERBS

The present tense expresses an action or a state that is taking place at the moment of speaking. You must know that there is a difference in the notion of time at the precise moment in which action is taking place. English, most often acknowledges the duration of the action. For example, je parle français is the equivalent of both “I am speaking French” and “I speak French”. English also uses an emphatic expression. “I do speak” which also uses an emphatic expression. However, “I do speak” does not exist in French.

a) As you progress in this Unit, you will discover that the present tense in French is formed by adding the appropriate endings to the stem of the infinitive.

Example:

Verbe Parler (to speak)

Je parle / I speak, I am speaking
 Tu Parles / You speak, You are speaking
 Il/Elle parle / he speaks, he is speaking
 On parle / We, they, people speak
 Nous Parlons / we speak, we are speaking
 Vous parlez / You speak, You are speaking
 Ils/Elles parlent / They speak, They are speaking

b) A noun, pronoun or a combination of a noun and pronoun may be used as the subject of the verb form.

Example:

Je parle français / I speak French.
 Anne et moi, parlons français / Anne and I speak French.
 Ils parlent à Mohammed / They are talking to Mohammed
 Les garçons parlent mal / The boys speak badly.
 On parle des vacances / We are talking about vacation.

c) Negative forms

To form a negative, you will place ne (n’) before the verb and pas after the verb.

Example:

Je ne parle pas espagnol / I don’t speak Spanish.
 Tu ne parles pas bien / You are not speaking well.
 On ne parle pas de toi / We are not talking about you.

You must pay much attention to the ending of the second person; you can see that it carries “s” while the first person has an “e” at the end . Here are samples of verbs of the first conjugation.

Aider / to help	monter / to climb
Aimer / to love	montrer / to show
Apporter / to bring	oublier / to forget
Arriver / to arrive	parle / to speak
Chanter / to sing	passer / to pass
Demander / to ask	penser / to think
Donner / to give	porter / to carry
Entrer / to enter	preparer / to prepare
Etudier / to study	raconter / to tell
Fermer / to close, to shut	regarder / to look out
Habiter / to live	rester / to stay
Inviter / to invite	tourner / to turn
Jouer / to play	travailler / to work
Trouver / to find

3.2 Some Conjugated verbs in different Sentences

Go through these sentences, they are conjugated in the present tense – Pay much attention. The verbs are quite different from one another. You have to study similar exercises to put the verbs in brackets in the present tense. But first of all, take a look at the sentences below:

Third conjugation, “re” verbs:

Vendre, to sell

I sell, I am selling etc.

Singular	Plural Form
Je vends	Nous vendons
Tu vends	Vous vendez
Il/Elle vend	Ils/Elles vendent

You have seen how, the second group “re” verb is conjugated, this is applicable to all the verbs with “re” endings. In the following sentences below you can see how the verb “vendre” is used with different pronouns.

- (d) Je vends ma maison / I am selling my house
- (e) Vendez-vous du beurre? / Do you sell butter?
- (f) Nous vendons aussi des oeufs / We also sell eggs.

Having seen a sample of present tense sentences, you will now find it easier to make sentences in French. The verbs are of “re”, “ir”, and “ere” endings. If you are very observant, you can use these sentences as a guide to further study the conjugation of verbs.

- (a) Je travaille dans un bureau / I work in an office

3.3 Passé Composé

You have studied the present tense verbs with their different groups. You will now be introduced to the “passé composé”, there is the “passé simple”, but for now you will study the “passé composé”.

Le passé composé (the past tense)

The “passé composé” is formed with the present tense avoir or être and a past participle. It is used to describe an action or an event that happened in the past at a precise moment. For example;

- J’ai parlé/, I spoke, I talked etc.

Verbe parler au passé composé

Singular form

J’ai parlé

Tu as parlé

Il /Elle a parlé

Plural form

Nous avons parlé

Vous avez parlé

Ils / Elles ont parlé

Verbe sortir / I went out, etc

Passé composé

Singular form

Je suis sorti(e)

Tu es sorti(e)

Il/Elle est sorti(e)

Plural form

Nous sommes sorti(e)s

Vous êtes sorti(e)s

Ils /Elles sont sorti(e) s

- Il m'a donné un cadeau / He gave me a gift.
- Vous êtes allés en Italie / You went to Italy.

The above sentences are in the past tense. You can see there is great difference in the present form of a sentence and that of the past tense.

Self Assessment Exercise 3

Now make use of the following verbs in sentences in the past tense, dormir, manger, prendre.

While forming a sentence you must take many factors into consideration. You have to be sure if the verb in question will take “être” as the auxiliary or “avoir”. You must not forget agreement. The following are the list of “être” verbs.

- | | | | |
|-------------|----------|-------------|-----------|
| - aller | - monter | - passer | - revenir |
| - arriver | - mourir | - rester | - sortir |
| - descendre | - naître | - retrouver | - tomber |
| - entrer | - partir | - retourner | |

The auxiliary “avoir” is used with the majority of verbs in French Grammar.

J'ai mangé une pomme. / I ate an apple

Nous avons maigri cette année. / We lost weight this year.

The verbs descendre, monter, rentrer, and sortir, when used as transitive verbs (which take a direct object) are conjugated with “avoir”.

Example:

Nous avons descendu les valises / We took the suit cases downstairs.

There must be no agreement in between the subject and the past participle if the auxiliary “avoir” is used in a direct and simple sentence: “j'ai mangé de la viande”. But where the complement of the direct object comes before the verb that has “avoir” as auxiliary verb, the past participle of the main verb must agree in gender and in the number within the object. The feminine object therefore introduces an additional e to the ending of the past participle, while the plurality is reflected by an additional s (if it is masculine plural) or additional es (if it is masculine plural).

Example:

- La viande que j'ai mangé
- Les livres que vous m'avez donnés
- J'ai vu une fille – Je l'ai vue

3.4 The Future Tense

For the future tense, you will find that it is formed by adding the future endings to the infinitive of er, and ir verbs. For re verbs, the e is dropped before adding the endings.

Example:

Parler.

I will speak etc.

Verbe parler au Futur

Singular form	Plural Form
Je parle rai	Nous parlerons
tu parleras	Vous parlerez
Il/Elle on parlera	Ils / Elles parleront

Verbe Finir au (I will finish) Futur

Singular form	Plural Form
Je finirai	Nous finirons
Tu finiras	Vous finirez
Il/Elle finira	Ils / Elles finiront

Verbe vendre au Futur

Singular form	Plural Form
Je vendrai	Nous vendrons
Tu vendras	Vous vendrez
Il/Elle vendra	Ils / Elles vendront

Below are sentences made with some verbs in future tenses. This is for you to practise. Go over it and get acquainted with the tenses. They will help you as you proceed in your study of French grammar because you will be introduced to more complex sentences later on.

- J'apporterai les sandwiches / I will bring the sandwiches?
- Tu étuderas tout l'été / You'll study all summer
- Les fruits pourriront / The fruits will rot.

- Nous nous réfléchirons à votre proposition./ We will think about your proposals.
- Vous défendrez votre pays. / You'll defend your country.

Self Assessment Exercise 4

You are now to construct sentences in the future tense. You are expected to use these verbs in your conjugation. (Aller, Rendre, Sortir)

1.0 INTRODUCTION

In this Unit you will be introduced to the conjugation of er and other irregular verbs into “présent de l’indicatif”. You will be taught the easiest way to know the techniques of French Grammar, which you could apply in conjugating French verbs into présent de l’indicatif. It is in this Unit also you will be exposed to some minor peculiarities of some er verbs (irrespective of the notion of their being regular). The knowledge gained from this Unit will prepare you for the next Unit on how to conjugate French verbs into présent de l’indicatif.

2.0 OBJECTIVES

By the end of this Unit you should be able to:

- (i) Identify the stem/radical of er verbs;
- (ii) Identify the er ending / termination of er verbs;
- (iii) Identify the morphemes (suffixation) with which the endings could be replaced thereby facilitating grammatically correct conjugation; and
- (iv) Identify some verbs that are noted as being regular but have some peculiarities.

3.0 MAIN CONTENT

3.1 General Techniques in conjugating Er and other Regular Verbs into Présent de l'indicatif

Apart from the verb aller (to go) (conjugated below) which is irregular, almost all verbs in the er group are regular verbs.

Aller:

Je vais / I am going tu vas / You are going / You go
 Il/Elle va/ He / She is going / He/She goes
 Nous allons / we are going / we go
 Vous allez / You are going / you go
 Ils / Elles vont/ They are going / they go

The general rule for the conjugation of these other er verbs is getting the infinitive divided or separated into the stem/radical and the ending. You then replace the ending, by adding these underlisted new endings to the stem or radical so as to form your conjugated verbs:

e for 1st person singular es for 2nd person singular est for 3rd person singular ons for 1st person plural ez for 2nd person plural ent for 3rd person plural

For example you will follow this technique, and conjugate the verb parler (to speak) into présent de l'indicatif.

Parl	er
Verbal stem/radical	verbal ending / termination

The radical / stem of the infinitive parler is parl while the ending is er. The rule says that we drop this er ending and replace it as follows:

e for 1 st person singular	=	je parle
es for 2 nd person singular	=	tu parles
est for 3 rd person singular	=	Il/Elle parle
ous for 1 st person plural	=	Nous parlons
ez for 2 nd person plural	=	Vous parlez
ent for 3 rd person plural	=	Ils/Elles Parlent

Note that for verbs conjugated into the French présent de l'indicatif, tense has two meanings and grammatical functions in English. It could be present continuous tense, Je parle/ I speak; and it could be present continuous tense, Je parle/ I am speaking. Care should be taken when translating from English to French or vice versa.

You also have to note that although 2nd person plural form “vous”, is for two or more people. It is allowed in French to be used as a mark of respect for a single person also. So you could say:
- Où allez-vous monsieur? / Where are you going sir?

Another example of the er group is the verb Aimer (to like / to love). The radical / stem of the infinitive aimer is aim- while the ending is er. The rule says that we drop this er ending and replace it as follows:

J'aime: I like / I love
Tu aimes: You like / love
Il / Elle aime: He / She likes / loves
Nous aimons: We like / love
Vous aimez: You like / love
Ils/Elles aiment: They like / love

A lot of verbs are conjugated in this way.

Note: You will discover that it is j'aime instead of je aime. In French, when the verb to be conjugated starts with a initial vowel, the vowel is dropped before the vowel of the pronoun. The dropped vowel is indicated by an apostrophe, (').

3.2 Exceptions in the Conjugation of Er and other Regular Verbs into Présent de l'indicatif.

Even though verbs in the er group are said to be regular, there are some minor peculiarities you have to know for some of these verbs. These sets are special and hence have to be treated as such. Examples are:

3.2.1 The -cer verbs

In French, the letter c plays dual phonological role when you see it in words. It is pronounced as /k/ when it precedes vowels a, o, u. Whereas it is pronounced as /s/ when it is in front of vowels i, e. Where it precedes any of the vowels a, o, u and it needs to be pronounced /s/, the phonological rule says that you must put “cedille” (ç) at the bottom of the c (ç), so do not be surprised to see this strange mark in the conjugation of verbs like placer/ to place.

Example:

Je place	Nous plaçons
Tu places	vous placez
Il/Elle place	Ils/Elle placent

3.2.4 The -ger verbs:

Just like ç, letter g also plays a dual role in the French phonology; it is pronounced as /g/ when it precedes vowels like a, o, u. But it is pronounced as /ʒ/ when it precedes vowels i and e. In a situation where the infinitive dictates that the g must have /ʒ/ sound, even when it is to be followed by either a, o, or u, the French phonological/ cum grammatical rule says that you must add an additional e before you write the vowels a, o, or the u. And so in verbs like manger – (to eat), you normally have “nous mangeons”.

Je mange	Nous mangeons
Tu manges	Vous mangez
Il/Elle mange	Ils/Elles mangent

Note: The -guer verbs (such as blaguer) are not affected by this rule.

3.2.5 The e-er verbs: The -ecer, -ener, -eper, -eser, -ever, -evrer

Verbs have one peculiarity. In their infinitive forms, they have a closed silent e in the last syllable of their stem. It is this e that is next to the single or double consonants that end their stem: lev/er. When conjugating this verb, e changes from a closed silent -e to an opened è sound in the first person, second person, third person singular and third person plural. And to mark this change in pronunciation – an accent “grave” is put on the e as to become è. The verb “lever” that falls into this category, lever / to rise.

Je lève	Nous levons
Tu lève	Vous lèvez
Il/Elle lève	Ils/Elles lèvent

3.2.4 The é: er verbs

There are some other verbs in French grammar whose letter e in the last syllable of the infinitive carries an acute accent (aign- é) already in the infinitive. This acute accent (´) when the verb is conjugated, normally changes to a grave accent (̀) – é in the 1st person, 2nd person, 3rd person singular and 3rd person plural. This peculiarity abounds among the – ébrer – écer, -éder, -égler, -égner, -éguer, -émer, -éler, -éner, -éper, -équer, -erer, -éser, -éter, -étrer, -éver verbs.

Example : célébrer to celebrate

Je célèbre	Nous célébrons
Tu célèbre	Vous célébrez
Il/Elle célèbre	Ils/Elles célèbrant

You will discover that this peculiarity does not affect the 1st and 2nd person plural of groups 3.1.3 and 3.1.4 of our exceptions. There is no problem of change in the pronounciation e at these levels)

3.2.5 The eler and eter verbs

When conjugating the eler and eter verbs, the single i or t in the infinitive is doubled in the 1st person, 2nd person and 3rd person plural. This change becomes inevitable so as to allow for easy pronounciation. You must note that the e before the i or t is pronounced /ə/ in the infinitive whereas you would want it pronounced /ɛ/ when used in the 1st, 2nd 3rd person singular and 3rd person plural. In order to facilitate this pronounciation, you must double the i or the t. Where these consonants are not doubled in the 1st and 2nd person plural, the pronounciation of e remains the same. Examples are:

Appeler – to call

Je appelle	Nous appellons
Tu appelles	Vous appelez
Il/Elle appelle	Ils/Elles appellant

Jeter – to throw

Je jette	Nous jettons
Tu jettes	Vous jetez
Il/Elle jette	Ils/Elles jettent

Note: There are exceptions to this general rule. Some –eler and –eter verbs do not double their i or t in the 1st, 2nd, 3rd persons singular and 3rd person plural, so as to aid the transition in pronounciation of the vowel e, from /ə/ to /ɛ/ sound before the consonant t or i.from /ə/to/ɛ/so.und They are verbs like modeler, celer, deceler, receler, ciseler, démanteler, écarteler, geler, congeler, surgiler, marteler, peler, acheter, racheter, bégueter, and coaster. They only take accent grave (`) on the e in the 1st, 2nd, 3rd person singular, and 3rd person plural. Example is acheter – to buy.

J'achète	Nous achetons
Tu achètes	Vous achetez
Il/Elle achète	Ils/Elles achètent

Self Assessment Exercise 1

Having learned about the general techniques guiding the conjugation of -er verbs and other regular verbs into présent de l'indicatif, do the following exercises:

Conjugate these verbs into “présent de l'indicatif” célébrer and manger

3.2.7 The –ver Verbs:

You must have been taught in phonetics (as well as in French phonology), that consonant y is taken to be a semi-vowel or semi consonant. It is also viewed by some linguists as a variant of i sound. This means y could be easily be changed to vowel (i) or vice versa. That explains why the semi vowel in the infinitive of –yer verbs change to I in the 1st, 2nd, 3rd persons singular and 3rd persons plural. A good example of this peculiarity can be seen in the conjugation of the infinitive envoyer/ to send in the present tense:

J'envoie	Nous envoyons
Tu envoies	Vous envoyez
Il/Elle envoie	Ils/Elles envoient

You must have noticed that the y does not change in the 1st and 2nd person plural. It is retained so as to maintain good pronunciation at these levels.

4.0 CONCLUSION

In this Unit, you have learned the rules governing the conjugation of -er verbs into présent de l'indicatif. Although this group of conjugated verbs is said to be the largest of all the regular verbs, you have also discovered some peculiarities in the conjugation of some the group's verbs.

5.0 SUMMARY

This unit has taught you about general techniques governing the conjugating of er verbs into présent de l'indicatif. Also you must have expanded your verbal vocabulary, improved your technique in conjugation of verbs, and enriched through the examples. Subsequent units will be built on this knowledge.

1.0 INTRODUCTION

This unit will introduce you to the conjugation of re as irregular verbs into présent de l’indicatif . In this unit you will be taught about the modern technics with which a French Grammar learner could apply in conjugating French re irregular verbs into présent de l’indicatif when you made the conjugation of the re verb, enhance your understanding in the subsequent unit.

2.0 OBJECTIVES

By the end of this Unit you should be able to:

- (i) Identify the stem/ radical of re irregular verbs;
- (ii) Identify the re ending / terminaison of these irregular verbs; and
- (iii) Identify the morphemes (suffixation) with which the endings could be replaced.

3.0 MAIN CONTENT

3.1 The General Techniques Guiding the Conjugation of re Irregular Verbs into Prèsent de l'indicatif

As you have been informed earlier, the -er verbs are the only ones with the largest number of regular verbs. Apart from -er verbs, other verbs, such as re verbs which you are about to learn, are irregular. The general rule of conjugating the re verbs is that you divide the infinitive into two: the stem/radical, and the ending. You then replace the ending -er with -s, -t, -ons, -ez, or -ent.

A verb is considered to be irregular when its stem (and even the endings in some other cases like infinitive faire, dire) changes from one person to another. Compare these two conjugations (danser/ to dance and être /to be)

Danser:

Je danse	Nous dansons
Tu dances	Vous dansez
Il/Elle danse	Ils/Elles dansent

Être:

Je suis	Nous sommes
Tu es	Vous êtes
Il/Elle est	Ils/Elles sont

You will observe that while dans-, the stem of the infinitive, danser is invariable in the 1st person, 2nd person and 3rd person singular and plural, the same thing cannot be said of the stem of the infinitive être. It changes from person to person, hence its been classified as irregular. Before we go further, you can go through the conjugation of these three common irregular verbs used often by French speakers.

3.2 The Three Common Irregular Verbs

(a) Être:

Je suis	Nous sommes
Tu es	Vous êtes
Il/Elle est	Ils/Elles sont

(b) Avoir:

J'ai suis	Nous avons
Tu as	Vous avez
Il /elle a	Ils/Elles ont

(c)

Je vais	Nous allons
Tu vas	Vous allez
Il/Elle va	Ils/Elles vont

Note: Although there is a similarity in the conjugation of the 3rd person plural of the three verbs, you should note that the 3rd person plural of être takes a consonant ‘s’ while that of avoir has none, and there is a y in place of the “s” in the conjugation of aller.

3.3 Techniques and Examples Guiding the Conjugation Of Re Verbs into Prèsent de l’indicatif.

Here, the general rule established for conjugating verbs in this group states that you divide the infinitive into the stem, and ending. You will then drop the re ending of the infinitive, and replace it with -s, -s, -t/-d, -ons, -ez, -ent, endings. The -t/-d in the 3rd person singular is used in infinitives that are among the dre, andre, endre, ondre, and ordre groups. Here, instead of adding the consonant -t of the 3rd person singular to the consonant -d that ends the stem, you will use -d in place of -t that ends the 3rd person singular in the conjugation of other groups. For example: rend/re, prend/re.

(a) Rendre – to give back

Je rends	Nous rendons
Tu rends	Vous rendez
Il/Elle rend	Ils/Elles rendent

(b) Prendre - to take

Je prends	Nous prenons
Tu prends	Vous prenez
Il/Elle prend	Ils/Elles prennent

Note: In the case of prendre and other verbs in its group, you should drop -d in the plural form, and double the n in the stem of the 3rd person plural.

3.3.1 The Être verbs

When conjugating this set of verbs, note that one of the double -t is dropped in their singular form, but maintained in plural forms.

Example:

(a) Battre – to beat

Je bats	Nous battons
Tu bats	Vous battez
Il/Elle bat	Ils/Elles battent

(b) Mettre – to put

Je mets	Nous mettons
Tu mets	Vous mettez
Il/Elle met	Ils/Elles mettent

3.3.2 The ‘Ndre’ Irregular Verbs

You should note that this group of verbs drops the -d that ends their radical / stem in all facets of conjugation. They take additional -gn- before their verbal endings in the plural forms. This unusual addition is to facilitate pronunciation.

(a) Peindre – to paint

Je peins	Nous peignons
Tu peins	Vous peignez
Il/Elle peint	Ils/Elles peignent

(b) Joindre – to join

Je joins	Nous joignons
Tu joins	Vous joignez
Il/Elle joint	Ils/Elles joignent

3.3.3 The ‘Aindre’ Verbs

This group maintains the -c that ends the stem in the plural form of the infinitive. But this single consonant -c is replaced by -qu in the plural form; and the -t is dropped in the 3rd person singular form.

Example:

(a) Vaincre – to conquer

Je vaincs	Nous vainquons
Tu vaincs	Vous vainquez
Il/Elle vainc	Ils/Elles vainquent

3.3.4 The group of “Faire” and “Dire”

Note that these two verbs have a similar peculiarity, their ending in the 2nd person plural is completely different from that of the others. Even the 3rd person plural of faire is also different. They are irregular:

(a) Faire – to do / make

Je fais	Nous faisons
Tu fais	Vous faites
Il/Elle fait	Ils/Elles font

(b) Dire – to say / tell

Je dis	Nous disons
Tu dis	Vous dites
Il/Elle dit	Ils/Elles disent

3.3.5 The Aire, Aitre, Ditre Verbs And Others

You will need to study and master this group, because it encompasses a lot of irregular verbs. Some allow the vowel i that ends the stem to change to -y in the 1st and 2nd persons plural, some do not only maintain the vowel i, they take an additional s after it, before taking the verbal ending; others go to the extent of duplicating the additional s, while some change their radical (stem) completely:

(a) Distraire – to entertain

Je distrais	Nous distrayons
Tu distrais	Vous distrayez
Il/Elle distrait	Ils/Elles distraient

(b) Plaire – to please

Je plais	Nous plaisons
Tu plais	Vous plaisez
Il/Elle plait	Ils/Elles plaisent

(c) Connaître – to know /(object)

Je connais	Nous connaissons
Tu connais	Vous connaissez
Il/Elle connaît	Ils/Elles connaissent

(d) Naître– to be born

Je nais	Nous naissons
---------	---------------

Tu nais	Vous naissez
Il/Elle naît	Ils/Elles naissent

(e) Croire – to believe

Je crois	Nous croyons
Tu crois	Vous croyez
Il/Elle croit	Ils/Elles croisent

(f) Boire – to drink

Je bois	Nous buvons
Tu bois	Vous buvez
Il/Elle boit	Ils/Elles boivent

(g) Conclure – to conclude

Je conclus	Nous concluons
Tu conclus	Vous concluez
Il/Elle conclut	Ils/Elles concluent

(h) Absoudre – to absolve

Je absous	Nous absolvons
Tu absous	Vous absolvez
Il/Elle absout	Ils/Elles absolvent

(i) Suivre – to follow

Je suis	Nous suivons
Tu suis	Vous suivez
Il/Elle suit	Ils/Elles suivent

(j) Vivre – to live

Je vis	Nous vivons
Tu vis	Vous vivez
Il/Elle vit	Ils/Elles vivent

(k) Lire – to read

Je lis	Nous lisons
Tu lis	Vous lisez
Il/Elle lit	Ils/Elles lisent

(l) Rire – to laugh

Je ris	Nous rions
Tu ris	Vous riez
Il/Elle rit	Ils/Elles rient

(m) Cuire – to cook

Je cuis	Nous cuisons
Tu cuis	Vous cuisez
Il/Elle cuit	Ils/Elles cuisent

Tu bois	Vous buvez
Il/Elle boit	Ils/Elles boivent

(c) Vaincre – to conquer

Je vains	Nous vainquons
Tu vains	Vous vainquez
Il/Elle vaint	Ils/Elles vainquent

1.0 INTRODUCTION

This unit will introduce you to the conjugation of other irregular verbs such as ir and oir verbs into présent de l'indicatif. You will also learn about the modern technics with which as a French Grammar learner could be able to conjugate French irregular verbs into présent de l'indicatif. This will enhance your knowledge on the conjugation of all French irregular verbs.

2.0 OBJECTIVES

By the end of this Unit you should be able to:

- (i) Identify the stem/ radical of irregular verbs such as ir and oir;
- (ii) Identify the ir and oir ending / termination of these irregular verbs; and
- (iii) Identify the morphemes (suffixes) with which the endings could be replaced.

3.0 MAIN CONTENT

3.1 The General Techniques Guiding the Conjugation of -ir and -oir Irregular verbs into Présent de l'indicatif

The -ir verbs can be divided into two groups. One group consists of those that double -s in the plural form when conjugated, and the second group consists of verbs whose consonant is not doubled.

As it is done in the -re verbs, the general rule of conjugating the -ir/-oir is that you divide the infinitive into two, the stem/radical, and the ending. You then replace the ending -ir/-oir with -s, -ss, -t, -ous, -ez, and -ent. But you must take note that verbs in this category, change their radical/stems because they are irregular. They end with only these: -s, -ss, -t, -ous, -ez, and -ent.

3.1.1 The Ir Verbs With Double s in their Plural Form

You have to note that these verbs follow general rule in the conjugation of their singular form. But they introduce double s before taking the verbal endings in the plural form. Examples are as follow: Finir/ to finish, haïr/ to hate.

Je finis	Nous finissons
Tu finis	Vous finissez
Il/Elle finit	Ils/Elles finissent

3.1.2 Second Sets of “Ir” Verbs

Remember that the other ir verbs, although their stem may change, they do not have double s or double any of their consonants in all their plural form except the 3rd person plural of some of their plural conjugation. Verbs in this group are more than those of the first type.

Examples:

(a) Tenir – to hold

Je tiens	Nous tenons
Tu tiens	Vous tenez
Il/Elle tient	Ils/Elles tiennent

(b) Venir – to come

Je viens	Nous venons
Tu viens	Vous venez
Il/Elle vient	Ils/Elles viennent

(c) Sentir – to smell / taste

Je sens	Nous sentons
Tu sens	Vous sentez
Il/Elle sent	Ils/Elles sentent

(d) Vêtir – to clothe / to dress

Je vêtis	Nous vêtons
Tu vêtis	Vous vêtez
Il/Elle vêtis	Ils/Elles vêtent

3.1.3 The Ir Verbs that take endings of Er Verbs

There are some “ir” verbs, that although belong to the group conjugated above, they end in -e, -es, -e, -ons, -ez, -ent, as if they are “er” verbs. The infinitive of these verbs only drops the -ir from their stem to take -e, -es, -e, -ons, -ez, and -ent endings. Examples of these are found in verbs like the following:

(a) Offrir – to offer

J’offre	Nous offrons
Tu offres	Vous offrez
Il/Elle offre	Ils/Elles offrent

(b) Couvrir – to cover

Je couvre	Nous couvrons
Tu couvres	Vous couvrez
Il/Elle couvre	Ils/Elles couvrent

(c) Cueiller– to pluck

Je cueille	Nous cueillons
Tu cueilles	Vous cueillez
Il/Elle cueille	Ils/Elles cueillent

3.1.4 Other Ir Verbs

You need to be very conversant with other “ir” verbs. These set belongs to a group with different peculiarities which are not easy to explain. Sometimes their radical changes completely from what is given in the infinitive. And in some other cases you only modify the radical. But they all belong to the s, s, e, ons, ez, ent endings. Their examples could be found in verbs like.

(a) Bouillir – to boil

Je bous	Nous bouillons
Tu bous	Vous bouillez
Il/Elle bout	Ils/Elles bouillent

(b) Dormir – to sleep

Je dors	Nous dormons
Tu dors	Vous dormez
Il/Elle dort	Ils/Elles dorment

(c) Courir – to run

Je Cours	Nous Courons
Tu Cours	Vous Courez
Il/Elle Court	Ils/Elles Courent

(d) Mourir – to die

Je meurs	Nous mourons
Tu meurs	Vous mourez
Il/Elle meurt	Ils/Elles meurent

(e) Servir – to serve

Je sers	Nous servons
Tu sers	Vous servez

Il/Elle sert	Ils/Elles servent
--------------	-------------------

(f) Fuir – to run away

Je fuis	Nous fuyons
Tu fuis	Vous fuyez
Il/Elle fuit	Ils/Elles fuient

Note: As the semi vowel y in the -ver verb changes to i in the singular form and 3rd person plural, so also the i in the group of fuir changes to y in the 1st and 2nd persons plural forms here.

3.1.5 The ‘Oir’ Verbs

As you have been earlier told about the “oir” verbs in the previous unit, they are purely irregular. You have to bear this in mind whenever you come across them. Like the “ir” and “re” verbs, each of ‘oir’ verbs contain two or more peculiarities that we have already studied in verbs of other groups. They will not be reclassified again in detail. Nevertheless, here are some examples, and description of the conjugation of some of them.

(a) Recevoir – to receive

Je reçois	Nous recevons
Tu reçois	Vous recevez
Il/Elle reçoit	Ils/Elles reçoivent

(b) Voir – to see

Je vois	Nous voyons
Tu vois	Vous voyez
Il/Elle voit	Ils/Elles voient

(c) Pouvoir – to be able

Je peux	Nous pouvons
Tu peux	Vous pouvez
Il/Elle peut	Ils/Elles peuvent

(d) Savoir – to know

Je sais	Nous savons
Tu sais	Vous savez
Il/Elle sait	Ils/Elles savent

(e) Devoir – to be obliged

Je dois	Nous devons
Tu dois	Vous devez
Il/Elle doit	Ils/Elles doivent

(f) Mouvoir – to move

Je meus	Nous mouvons
Tu meus	Vous mouvez
Il/Elle meut	Ils/Elles mouvent

(g) Valoir – to be worth

Je vauX	Nous valons
Tu vauX	Vous valez
Il/Elle vant	Ils/Elles valent

(h) Vouloir – to want /to wish

Je veux	Nous voulons
Tu veux	Vous voulez
Il/Elle veut	Ils/Elles veulent

(i) Asseoir – to sit

J'assieds	Nous asseyons
Tu assieds	Vous asseyez
Il/Elle assied	Ils/Elles asseyent

1.0 INTRODUCTION

In the previous units, you studied the present, past and future tenses. You have also studied how to use them in simple sentences. This unit will introduce you to verbs in continuation of our study of French Grammar. You will examine the construction of more sentences and other verbs, which you have not been taught before now. They include the imperfect tense, the verb “être” and “avoir”, and the conditional and the imperative moods.

For each verb in this unit, you will study some examples, and explanations.

You will be asked to go over each of the verbs. For each sequence, you will be given an exercise to do, to test your understanding. This will help you know if you have grasped the use of these verbs or not.

2.0 OBJECTIVES

By the end of this study you will be able to:

- (i) Conjugate the verbs “Être” and “Avoir” ;
- (ii) Identify the imperfect tense and its uses;
- (iii) Identify the conditional tenses; and
- (iv) Identify the imperative mood and its uses.

3.1 The Verb “Être”

As it was stated in the introduction, you are going to study the verb “Être” and “Avoir”. These verbs are the two basic verbs used in presenting oneself and showing possession. The present tense form of “Être” and “Avoir” are also used as auxiliaries in the perfect tenses.

You must have come across these verbs “Être” and “Avoir” in the course of your previous studies in French.

Example: “Être” + Nationality

- Il est Nigerian/He is a Nigerian
- Tu es Sénégalaise?/Are you a Senegalise?

Être + Profession

- Je suis infirmière/I am a nurse
- Tu es tailleur?/Are you a tailor?

Être + Adjectif

- Elle est belle/She is beautiful
- Il est gentil/He is kind
- Vous êtes intelligent/You are intelligent

You can now see how simple and straight forward it is to use the verb “être” to make a sentence. You can use it to describe your profession, to specify your nationality and to qualify some things. complete the following exercise and see if you have really understood how the verb “Être” is used.

Self Assessment Exercise 1

The following words in these sentences have been jumbled, and the words are wrongly placed. Rearrange, and write out the sentences correctly.

- a) La est femine malade
- b) La gentille est fille
- c) Es Togolais tu?
- d) Beau il est garçon un

You can also use the verb “être” to question. For example:

Question: Tu es professeur ?/ Are you a lecturer or teacher ?

Response: Oui, je suis professeur

Or

“Non, je ne suis pas professeur”

Question: Il est étudiant?/Is he a student?

Note: Je + être becomes je suis

Tu + être becomes tu es

Il/Elle on + être becomes il/elle est

Nous + être becomes Nous Sommes

Vous + être becomes vous êtes

Ils/Elles + être becomes ils/elles sont

You may wonder why this is so, but as you continue in this study it will become clear to you.

3.1.1 The Verb “Avoir”

The verb “Avoir” is used as auxillary verb to majority of verbs when conjugated into passé composé such as:

- J’ai mangé une pomme/ I ate an apple

- Nous avons maigri cette année/ We lost weight this year

However, the following verbs take the auxillary verb être when conjugated into passé compose.

These verbs are in the infinitive form

Verb	Meaning	Past Participle
Arriver	to go	allé
Descendre	to go down	descendu
Devenir	to become	devenu
Entrer	to enter	entré
Monter	to climb	monté
Mourir	to die	mort
Naître	to be born	né
Rester	to remain, to stay	resté
Retourner	to turn	retourné
Sortir	to go out	sorti
Tomber	to fall	tombé
Venir	to come	venu
Partir	to go, to leave	parti
Rentrer	to go back, to go home	rentré etc

For example:

-Elle est tombée sur l'escalier/ She fell on the stairs

-Il est né le 1^{er} Décembre/ He was born on 1st December

Note: The verbs descendre, monter, rentrer and sortir, when used as transitive verbs (when it takes a direct object) are conjugated with avoir.
For example:

-Nous avons descendu les valises/ We took the suitcases down stairs.

Having studied the verb "avoir", do this exercise.

Self Assessment Exercise 2

Conjugate these verbs (parler, danser) using the auxiliary verb "avoir" in the past tense (passé composé)

You can see this verb is conjugated in the simple past tense (passé composé). A lot of anglo-phone students make the mistake of translating the tense as being present perfect tense. For example,

-J'ai été means/ I was not / I have been
 -Je suis allé/ means I went not / I am gone

The general rule of conjugating this tense says that you add the past participle of the verb you want to conjugate, to the auxiliary avoir or être (as the case may be):

(Avoir or être + participe passé du verbe)

For example: Manger - to eat, Venir- to come

J'ai mangé	Je suis venu(e)
Tu as mangé	Tu es venu(e)
Il/Elle a mangé	Il/Elle est venu(e)
Nous avons mangé	Nous sommes venu (e) s
Vous avez mangé	Vous êtes venu(e)s
	Il/Elles sont venue (e) s

Formation of Past Participle

The past participle of all er verbs is easy to form, you drop the r at the end of the infinitive, and put an acute accent on the final 'e' (é).

For example :

Manger	-	mangé
Aller	-	allé

But in the case of other verbs in other groups, being that these verbs are usually irregular, it is difficult to profer a general rule that can be used to form their past participle. Some drop their endings to be replaced with u :_ like Vouloir = voulu, some only drop the last consonant of the infinitive, like : finir = fini and some others derived theirs from some other source.

Thus, as learners of the language, you are advised to learn the past participle of a verb alongside the infinitive when acquiring new vocabulary.

3.1.3 The Imperfect Tense

The imperfect tense could be used as a form of French simple past tense e.g. J'étais/Iwas, and its uses vary. The imperfect tense is a tense of description. It describes an action or a state that took place in the past, without defining its duration or its time of completion.

For example, when you want to recount your childhood experience or an event that took place in a long time, such as:

-Il habitait Londres pendant la guerre/ He lived in London during the war.

But when one indicates the duration, another past tense must be used. (passé, composé, passé simple)

Example:

-Il a habité (Il habita) Londres pendant dix ans/ He lived in London for ten years.

The imperfect tense is used to describe physical or mental state that existed in the past such as this sentence.

-Il avait mal à la tête et ne se souvient de rien/ He had a headache and remembered nothing.

The imperfect tense is used to express a habitual action that existed in the past for example:

-Elle tondait la pelouse tous les jours/ She mowed the lawn every day

In forming the imperfect tense, you use the appropriate stem, radical or the first person plural of the indicative tense (minus, the ons). For example:

- Parler (parlons)

-Je parlais/ I was speaking/, used to speak, etc.

The imperfect endings are -ais, ait, ions, rez, aient

By now you are conversant with the imperfect tense, and can conveniently use it in sentences. Now, complete this exercise.

Self Assessment Exercise 3

Use each of the following verbs in their imperfect form in a sentence:

Regarder, sortir, prendre

3.1.4 The Conditional Tense

The endings of the present conditional are like those of the future tense, added to the whole infinitive.

Parler I would speak, etc	Finir I would finish, etc
Je parlerais	Je finirais
Tu parlerais	Tu finirais
Il/Elle parlerait	Il/Elle finirait
Nous parlerions	Nous finirions
Vous parleriez	Vous finiriez
Il/Elle parleraient	Ils/Elles finiraient

The conditional usually expresses an eventuality. The cause or condition for this eventuality can be implicit or explicit.

The eventuality can be contained in a Si/If clause, in which case it is explicit.

-Si tu parlais plus fort on t'entendrait/ If you spoke louder we would hear you.

-Je grossirais si je mangeais plus/ I would put on weight if I ate more.

-Si vous m'inviter, je resterais/If you invited me, I would stay.

When the eventuality is implied in the conditional clause, the cause and condition are implicit, for example,

-Aimeriez vous être balayeur de mes?/ Would you like to be a street sweeper?

-Auriez-vous l'audace de m'accuser de voler?/ Would you have the audacity to accuse me of stealing?

The conditional is also used to make request or a refusal more polite

Example:

-J'aimerais te parler/ I would like to speak to you

-Je ne voudrais pas le voir/ I would not want to see him.

4.0 CONCLUSION

In this unit, you have learned about the uses of auxiliary verb Être and Avoir, the conditional and the imperfect tenses, and have used them in sentences.

This unit has introduced you to verbs and sentences. The auxiliary verb Être and Avoir, the conditional and the imperfect sentences, and how they are used.

1.0 INTRODUCTION

In Module 1, unit 4 you learned about adjectives and their functions. You have known how to use adjectives in French sentences. In this unit, you will learn about adverbs and their uses.

Adverbs are grammatical words that modify verbs in given sentences. There are adverbs of manner, adverbs of quantity, adverbs of time, place, quality, interrogative and negation.

2.0 OBJECTIVES

Upon successful completion of this unit, you should be able to:

- (i) Identify the French adverbs;
- (ii) Differentiate the adverbs of manner from that of quantity, etc; and
- (iii) Use the French adverbs correctly in sentences.

3.0 MAIN CONTENT

3.1 How to Use These Adverbs

Adverb of Manner: Most adverbs of manner are formed by adding the suffix “-ment” to the feminine singular form of the adjective as in the following:

- | Masculine | Feminine | |
|-------------------------|-----------------|---------------------------------------|
| Grave | Grave | Gravement/seriously |
| Long | Longue | Longuement/for a long time, at length |
| Complet | Complète | |
| Complètement/completely | | |
| Vif | Vive | Vivement/vivaciously |
- A few adjectives change the mute-“e”- to -‘é-’ before the suffix. Such as these ones:

énor me	énormément	enormously
Profondé	profondément	deeply

- Usually when the masculine form of the adjective ends with a vowel –“ent” is added to the masculine form as in the following:

Masculine	Feminine
Joli	jolie	joliment - prettily
Vrai	vraie	vraiment – really

Note: the adjective gai (gaie for feminine) however, becomes gaiment/gaily.

3.2 Position of Adverbs

- Il lui parle poliment
- Il a très bien parlé

Adverbs by their very nature of modifying verbs, occur after verbs as in (a) and (b) above. But in definite adverbs of time and place they occur after past participle. For example:

Il est venue ici la veille de son départ.

Adverbs ending in “ment” go after the past participle often. But for emphasis, here is an exception to the rule. “Exceptionnellement il n’y aura pas de courrier demain”. For once there will be no mail tomorrow

3.1.2 Inversion and Position of Adverbs

The following adverbs when placed at the beginning of the sentence require an inversion of the verb. For example,

Peut - être - a - t - il tort
Aussi pense t-il-à son sort
Sans doute l'as-t-il cru

You can see that all the adverbs were placed at the beginning of the sentences thereby causing an inversion of the verb.

The following adverbs usually come before an infinitive:

bien	trop
mieux	beaucoup
Moi	toujours
jamais

Look at these sentences:

Pour bien comprendre
Il lui demanda pour mieux comprendre
Il ne faut pas trop insister sur cela
Pour toujours s'exprimer en français correctement

3.2 Masculine Singular Adjectives Ending in “-ant” and – “ent”

Masculine singular adjectives ending in –“ant” and –“ent” form adverbs ending in –“amment” and “emment” (which replace the –“nt” ending of the adjective)

For example :

Suffisant	Suffisamment	Sufficiently
Prudent	Prudemment	Prudently

Note: A common exception to this rule is “lent” – slow.

Masculine	Feminine
Lent	lente	lentement	slowly

Some common adverbs of manner not ending in e–“ment” include:

Ainsi / like	plutôt / rather
--------------	-----------------

Bien / well	tard/ lae
Debout / up, standing	tôt / early
Comment / how	vite / quickly
Express / on purpose	volontiers / glowly
Mal / badly	ensemble / together

If the adjective ends in a consonant, you should add “-ment” to the feminine. For example:

heureux	heureusement
grand	grandement
franc	franchement

The following is the list of irregular adverbs, which take on an acute accent on the “e” of the feminine adjective.

énorme	énormément
precise	précisément
avengle	avenglément
commum	Communément
confus	Confusément
profond	Profondément
obscur	Obscurément
commode	Commodément
exprès	Expressément
immense	Immensément

3.2.1 The Position of Adverbs of Manner

Adverbs of modifying verbs in a simple tense is usually placed after the verb like in the following sentence:

Je vous l’envoie directement/ I am sending it to you directly
-“directement” is the adverb of manner

For perfect tenses, the position of adverbs vary. As a guide, place adverbs of more than one syllable after the verb, and those of one syllable between the auxiliary and the past participle as in this sentence:

Je vous l’ai envoyé directement/ I sent it to you directly

The past participle is envoyé. Short adverbs come before an infinitive like:

Apprenez à bien conduire! / Learn to drive well!

The adverb is bien.

Adverbs of manner are placed before the adjective or adverb they modify. For example,

Elle est bien habillée / She is well dressed
Il parlait plutôt mal / He spoke rather badly.

Adverbs of time are : après, tôt, sur le-champ, de nouveau.

Look at the following sentences:

Il est venu si tôt.
Le professeur est arrivé après mon départ.
Je lui ai remis l'argent sur-le-champ.

Self Assessment Exercise 1

Now use the following adverbs of manner in sentences: gravement, longuement, profondement, and vraiment.

3.2.2 Some Adverbs of Time in Constructed Sentences

- Tantôt on réussit, tantôt on échoue./ Sometimes you succeed, sometimes you fail.
- Je suis resté sur place/ I remained in one place.
- Les crises éclatèrent de nouveau/ Crises broke out anew.
- Enfin le Sultan de Sokoto parut/The Sultan of Sokoto finally appeared
- Je suis rentrée tard/ I got home late.
- Tôt ou tard on saura qui a tort/ Sooner or later we shall know who is wrong
- Un visage à la fois triste et comique parfois/An unhappy look and sometimes comic.
- Paul m'a vu quelques mois auparavant/ Paul saw me some months before
- De temps à autre je l'appelait/ I do call her from time to time.
- Désormais je n'assisterai pas aux soirées/ Henceforth, I will not attend parties.

-Jusqu'ici je n'ai pas trouvé mon mari/ Uptill now I have not found my husband.

3.3 Adverbs of Quantity

Adverbs of quantity are used with a verb before a comparative, before a noun with “de” and before the adverb plus, moins and trop. Look at some of the adverbs of quantity below:

Assez	enough
Autant	as much
Beaucoup	much, a lot
Combien	how much
Ne ... guère	hardly
Peu	little
D'avance	move
Plus	more
Moins	less
Très	very
Trop	too much
Pas du	not at all
Tout	not at all
La plupart	most

For example in the following sentences:

-Il est beaucoup plus bavard que moi./ He is more talkative than I
 -Je n'ai pas assez d'argent/ I do not have enough money

“Bien des” is used in the sense of beaucoup de. It is followed by a noun, as in the following sentence:

-Bien des voyages se terminent mal/ Many trips end badly

Moins and plus take “de” to express quantity.

Example:

-Plus de mille naira a été dépensé/ More than a thousand naira has been spent.
 -Moins d'un jour et demie on peut arriver au village/ In less than a day and half one can reach the village
 -Vous mangez plus/moins que moi./ You eat more/less than I

You should try to distinguish between “au moins” et “du plus”. “Au moins” is for expressing a minimum, while “du plus” is for expressing a maximum.

Example :

Madame Pedro l’a prononcé au moins de six fois
Je suis venu à ton bureau plus de trois aujourd’hui.

Use of “tant” et “autant” (so much, so many, so as much, as many)

Look at these sentences:

- Il a tant d’argent/ He has more money.
- Il a tant d’amis/ He has so many friends.

1.0 INTRODUCTION

You have learned about adverbs in the previous unit, and how they are used in simple sentences. In this unit, you will study prepositions. Like adverbs and conjunctions, prepositions are invariable. They are grammatical words that are used to establish a relationship between two words or two groups of words in a sentence. They may precede or come after nouns, verbs, adverbs or phrases. The basic prepositions are à, de, dans, par, avec, sans, avant, après, devant, derrière, chez, pour, contre, and depuis.

2.0 OBJECTIVES

At the end of this Unit you should be able to

- (i) Identify prepositions in French sentences;
- (ii) Differentiate between à preposition, and a of the auxiliary avoir verb; and
- (iii) Place prepositions correctly in sentences.

3.0 MAIN BODY

3.1 The Preposition à

The Preposition à is used to form an adverbial or adjectival phrases which denote (meaning) at, to, in, on. It can also follow an infinitive verb. Ex ample of such verbs are:

- (a) aider quelqu'un à – to help someone (to)
- (b) s'amuser à – to amuse oneself (by)
- (c) avoir à – to have to
- (d) apprendre à – to learn how (to)
- (e) continuer à – to continue (to)

Example :

-Il est tellement malade qu'il a de la peine à se lever/ He so is sick that he has difficulty getting up.

The infinitive verb in the sentence is se lever.

-Chantal apprend à patiner/ Chantal is learning to skate.

The infinitive verb in the sentence is patiner.

À can be used to indicate a place, time or a position.

Example:

- À droite – to the right
- À Loisir – at leisure
- À mon avis – in my opinion
- À la campagne – in the country side
- À pied – on foot
- À la main – hand made
- À ce moment là – at that time

À can follow a verb before an indirect object. For example:

- Tu as donné cette viande aux enfants? Non, je l'ai donné au chien
- Did you give this meat to the children? No, I gave it to the dog.

À can also be used to indicate possession. For example;

- Cette voiture est à toi? Non! Elle est à Christophe
- This car is yours? No, it is Christophe's.

Having learned about the preposition à; and how it placed in a sentence, now do this exercise.

Self Assessment Exercise 1

Underline all the preposition in these sentences.

- Ali s'est habitué à dormir tôt
- Tu vas m'aider à faire la vaisselle
- J'ai de la peine à parler
- Monique s'intéresse à jouer

For example: Il s’arrête de courir – He stops running.

Note: “De” is also used before an infinitive to form a predicate.

For example: A vous de jouer!
Your turn to play!

(2) You can also use “de” to form an adverb.

Example: loin - from far away

(3) “De” can also be used to form an adjective.

For example:

- C’est tout ce qu’il y a de plus beau?/ It could not be more true
- Qu’est ce que tu as fais de beau?/ What did you do that was interesting?

(4) “De” is also used to form a relation of time point of view, cause, reason or manner. Example:

- De jour - per day
- De caractere - as for his / her character?

- D'instincte - by instinct
 - De dépit - in spite
 - D'habitude - habitually
- (5) Just as you have learned that “à” also can be used to show possession, so also “De” can be used to show possession.
Example:

That is Nicole's painting

- (6) De can also follow adverb of quantity, for example:
- Julie a beaucoup d'argent/ Julie has a lot of money

Beaucoup is an adverb of quantity and you can see that it is followed by “De”

- | | | |
|--------------------------|---|------------------|
| Un litre de lait | - | a litre of milk |
| Un verre d' eau | - | a glass of water |
| Une tasse de café | - | a cup of coffee |

Note: There is a difference in meaning between expressions using a noun “à” and those using a noun + “de”. For example

Un verre “de” vin - a glass of wine
Un verre “à” vin - a wine glass

- (8) “De” is used to express dimensions, to denote difference in age and measurement, and to denote English expressions of time. For example:
- La pièce “à” cinq mètres de long./The flat is five metres long.
 - Il est le plus âgé “dé” deux ans./ He is older by two years
 - Il est plus grand que Marc “dé” deux centimètres/ He is two centimetres taller than Marc.
 - Cinq heures du matin /Five o' clock in the morning (5:A.M).

- Dur d'oreille - hard of hearing

3.3 “À”, “De”, and “En” with names of places.

-Revenant d'un voyage en Italie et Portugal, Il est rentré Fourbu aux Etats Unis./Coming back from a trip to Italy and Portugal, he returned to the United States, exhausted.

Note: When noun of a place is modified; “en” is replaced by dans.

For example:

- Il va en Espagne - He is going to Spain
- Il va dans l'Espagne - He is going into Spain

Note: When an idea of “inside” a city is conveyed, “dans” is used instead of “à” j'habite en plein dans Lyon. I live in the center of Lyon.

Note: When nouns of place are modified; “de” is replaced by “de la” or “du”. For example:

- Ils viennent de la belle province de Quebec/ They came from the beautiful province of Quebec
 -Nous aimons les quartiers du vieux Paris/We love the district of Old Paris.

Note: Some cities contain an article in their names; which contracts with à or dé. Example :

- Mes parents reviennent du Caire (le Caire)/ My parents are coming from Cairo.

Note: Because de + le = du, that is why it is written "du Caire" (le Caire).

1.0 INTRODUCTION

In the previous Unit you studied prepositions and their functions. You also learned how to use the prepositions in sentences. In this unit you will learn about the French conjunctions, and their usage.

2.0 OBJECTIVES

At the end of this Unit, you should be able to:

- (i) Differentiate a conjunction from a preposition in French;
- (ii) Identify the different types of conjunction we have in French;
- (iii) Use the conjunction in sentences; and
- (iv) Place them in their correct position in sentences

3.0 MAIN BODY

3.1 Definition of Conjunctions and their Types

Conjunctions like prepositions and adverbs are invariable. Conjunctions connect two or more words, clauses, phrases or group of words (that have the same functions) in a sentence. There are two classes of conjunctions: Conjunctions of coordination and conjunctions of subordination.

3.2 Conjunction of Coordination

- (1) Liaison Structurelle et – and comme – as ensuite – then ni – neither, nor

- (2) Cause
 Alors – well, then
 Puis – then
 Aussi – also, thus Car – since
 En effet – indeed
 Afin que – so that Parce que – because

- (3) Consequence
 Donc – thus, then
 Alors – thus, then
 Par conséquent – in consequence
 De toute façon – in any case
 Aussi – thus, also Ainsi – so
 C'est pourquoi – that's why

- (4) Transition
 or – now, then

- (5) Opposition
 Mais – but Or – but
 Au contraire – but on the
 Et – and Cependant – however
 D'ailleurs – aside, this
 En tout cas – In any case
 Soit Soit – either, or C'est – à – dire – that is to say

3.2.1 How to Use Conjunctions

Ils sont tout allés au cinéma, car il faisait très mauvais.

Conjunctions link two or more clauses, and not one conjunction per clause. Example :

- Je suis fatigué, car je suis sorti, du bureau pour me soulager.

You can see in the above sentence that car is the conjunction that links the two clauses of the sentence together. Having seen how conjunctions are used in sentences, complete this exercise.

Self Assessment Exercise 1

Underline the conjunctions in the following sentences.

- (1) J'avais beaucoup de travaux à faire, alors, je ne me suis pas ennuyé.
- (2) Ngozi reste toujours à la maison comme elle attend son amie Marie.
- (3) Mohammed le fera certainement, car il réussit toujours.

3.3 Conjunctions of Subordination

The conjunctions of subordination serve to connect a dependant clause to the main clause. We think on two or more clauses (les prépositions) out of which one will be the principal (main), and the remaining clauses would be subordinate or dependant on the principal. The extent of this dependancy varies from one sentence to another. It is the subordinating conjunction used in the sentence that would introduce the idea of the dependency. We call this dependency “circumstantial subordination” or subordonnée circonstancielle in French. Using this classification, they could be divided into Surbordonnées de temps, Surbordonnées de cause, Surbordonnées de conséquences, Surbordonnées de but, Surbordonnée de concession, Surbordonnée de condition, Surbordonnée de manière.

3.3.1 Surbordonnées de Temps

This describes clauses that depend on the principal in relationship to time. They answers “questions” like “when, how long, since” etc. Action expressed in these clauses could be simultaneous (concurrent actions in which that of the surbordinate takes place at the same time with the principal).

- (1) These clauses could be introduced by subordinating conjunctions like quand, comme, lorsque, alors que, pendant que, tandis que, en même temps que, tant que, austitôt que, dès que, après que, depuis que, à mesure que, avant que, jus qu'à ce que, en attendant que etc. Look at these examples :

- Ade fumait quand il était malade
- Olu était malade après qu'il avait fumé
- Je mange comme je bois
- Tu dois terminer ce travail avant que je revienne

Note: that when subordinating conjunctions like avant que jus qu'à ce que, en attendant que are used, the verb that will follow them must automatically be in a subjunctive form.

- (2) Surbordonnés de cause are secondary clauses that express the reason or cause of action narrated in the principal. They are introduced by conjunctions like parce que, d'autant plus que, c'est que, selon que, suisant que, sait que, ce n'est pas que, puisque, vu que, étant donné que, sous prétexte que etc. For example;

- Il travaille parce qu'il a besoin d'argent
- Comme il veut réussir, il travaille beaucoup
- Puisque l'ordre de monde est réglé par la mort j'aimerais vivre sans appel.
- Ce n'est pas que j'ai faim, je veux gaspiller son argent seulement.

Note that conjunctions like soit que, ce n'est pas que normally take subjunctive form.

3. Surbordonnés de manière, expresses the way and manner by which the action of the principal is done. They are introduced by conjunctions like de manière que, de façon que, de sorte que, sans que etc.

For example :

- Il a travaillé de manière qu'il retourne à votre bureau
- Ade ne lit (pas) de façon qu'il réussisse à l'examen.

Sans que is always used with a subjunctive form! But all other conjunctions in this category could either go with indicative or subjunctive form.

4. Subordonnés de conséquence express the outcome of the action done or expressed in the principal. They are introduced by conjunctions like si bien que, de sorte que, de manière que, de façon que, au points que, si grand que etc. For example;

- Sa peur est si grande qu'il se mit a courir.
- Je mange à ma faim de sorte que je ne meurre de faim.
- Il traivaille trop de façon qu'il tombe malade.

Note that only si bien que can take indicative mood. All other conjunctions in this category can either be indicative or subjunctive mood.

5. Subordonnés de but express the aim or objective of the action expressed in the principal. They can be introduced by conjunctions like pour que, afin que, de crainte que, de peur que, etc.

For example :

- Je lui écris pour qu'il ne puisse (pas) moublier
- Je l'accompagné à l'école de peur qu'il n'assiste aux cours
- Ola achete du riz afin qu'il mange à sa faim

Note that all the conjunctions in this category are expressed in subjunctive mood.

- (6) Subordonnés de concession express ideas of simple opposition in the alternative, introduced in the principal clause. They can be introduced by conjunctions like même si, quand même, bien que, quoi que, encore que, alors que, tandis que, pendant que, soit que, soit que etc.

For example :

- Si Tunde vient, nous sortirons ensemble
- Je veux sortir même si Tunde ne vient plus
- J'amerais vous parlez au cas ou vous serez libre
- Je sortirais avec toi à condition que tu vienne avec une voiture.

Note: Conjunctions like à condition que, pour ou que, à moins que, pour peur que, à supposer que, are normally expressed in subjunctive mood while conjunctions like au cas ou are normally followed by conditional tense.

(7) Subordonnés de comparaison express simple comparison between the idea of the subordinate clause and the principal. They are introduced by conjunctions like comme, ainsi que, de même, tant que, autant que, aussi, etc.

- Debo sait jouer au football comme il sait lire
- Tolu parle en français de même qu'il parle en anglais
- Je ne voyage pas autant que vous croyez.
- Il fait le droit aussi qu'il enseigne à l'université

1.0 INTRODUCTION

In the previous Unit you have learned about types of sentences and their uses. In this Unit you will learn about vocabulary development. Just as in English language, the French language also has a way of developing its vocabulary. In this unit you will learn about affixation which covers suffix and infix. It also has infixation.

2.0 OBJECTIVES

By the end of this study you should be able to:

- (i) Use a prefix, a suffix, and an infix;
- (ii) Distinguish between a prefix, an infix, and a suffix; and
- (iii) Use the prefix, and suffix in French grammar.

3.0 MAIN BODY

3.2 What is a Prefix, a Suffix and an Infix?

- (i) Let us look at the term Affixing

The term affixing refers to a morphological process whereby a morpheme is added to a lexical item or element, as the case may be in order to form another word. Words made up of only one morpheme, are referred to, in morphological terms, as the root. Affixes can be added to a root which now serves as the foundation for word building. The word “mondial” for example, has two morphemes “mond and ial”. Of these, the one that is of word status and therefore the root morpheme is “mond-”. The addition that is made to it i.e. the “affix”, is “-ial” so, the root and the affix make up the word “mondial”.

In a similar way, the word “recommencer” (with three morphemes) can be shown to have the root “commenc-” and two “affixes” re- and -er. Like the “ial” of the “mondial”, -er is the suffix. It is commonly known that the affix before the root is the prefix, and the affix after the root is the suffix. In the example above, re- is the prefix. These two processes of the prefixation and suffixation are the major affixation (and hence the major morphological) processes known in French. In some languages, affixes are inserted within the roots or stems. Such affixes are therefore referred to as infixes, i.e. occurring within a root of a stem but in some other languages infixes are known to occur frequently e.g. Yoruba =

Omo +ti +ko +to+ omo = Omokomo

When therefore we talk about natural languages, we can generally identify prefixation, suffixation and infixation as the major affixation (and hence the major morphological) processes. A root morpheme which permits affixation, (whether prefixation or suffixation) can be regarded as the base morpheme in that process.

3.2 Three Major Processes of French Word Formation

(1) Emprint or Borrowed Words

For a word to be formed in any language there must be a base morpheme. It is this base morpheme that either stands on its own to have a meaning or allows itself to be fused on its own to have a meaning or allows itself to be fused with other morphemes or even compounded with another word of the same or different linguistic class. In French language, this base morpheme is called “le radical”. Most of the base morphemes are borrowed from languages like Greek, Latin, Spanish, English, German, and even Arabic. Sometimes these borrowed words could maintain the original meaning they are known for in the language where they are borrowed from or their meaning could suit the French morphological/ semantic rule and structure. Most words that have their endings in “tion” té and eur” e.g election, nation, difficultté, ferveur etc were borrowed from Latin.

Several adjectives like passif, actif, fragile, fidéle, legal, etc were borrowed from Latin; so also verbs like adorer, députer, naviguer, recencer. Others are agenda, maximum, intérium, pensum, ultimatum. In the case of some other borrowed words, there is little modification to the original word from the Latin when it gets into the French language. For example :

Advocatum	-	avocet
Articulum	-	article
Ausculaire	-	ausculter
Classicum	-	classique
Hospitale	-	hôpital
Mobilem	-	mobile
Potinem	-	potion
Redemptionem		redemption
Separare	-	séparer

3.2.1 Words Borrowed from the Greek and other Languages

These words borrowed from the Greek language got into French through Latin, because Latin speakers have been making use of these Greek words. It became easier for the French elite to bring them through Latin into French. Some of these words are; école, église, cimitière, diable, orgue perdrix, prêtre, anarchie, démocratique, démagogie, despote, épigraphie, auto, socio etc.

French language factors like music, architectural designs, marine cum navigation, military and warfare are behind most words borrowed from Italian into French language. Examples are; adagio, andante, opera, arcade, balcon, coupole, niche, pilastre, boussole, galère, golfe, pilote, arsenal, bataillon, escrime, infanterie, soldat, bandit, banque, patron, etc.

Words borrowed from Spanish, just like in the case of Italian language, artistic, commercial, social and sporting rapport exists between the French people and the Spanish. Some of these words are: camarade, casque, guitare, nègre, rectify, tomate, épinard, etc.

Words borrowed from German language into French include kepi, sabre, bière, blaue, rosse, vampire etc.

Words borrowed from the English Language include those of sporting activities e.g “Le cup mondial”, tennis, sportsmen, football, basketball, etc. Other words are antelopes, banquise, bébé, film, cellubrid, express, flirt, gentleman, weekend, spleen, wagon, flanelle, fury, pamphlet, rail, touriste, tunnel etc.

Words were also borrowed from the Arabic language into the French language although, they were first brought into French through Spanish or Italian. Some lexicologists or morphologists have the tendency of classifying them as either Italian or Spanish borrowed words. Their examples are: Alchimie, alambic, alcool, algebra, arabesque, babouche, douane, fez, gazelle, harem, magasin, minaret, pastèque, Sultan, talisman, tariff, timbale, zouave etc.

Apart from these various words borrowed from different languages that we have enumerated above, there are some other base words borrowed from Indo-European languages into the French language. The major difference between these base words (racine and radical) in French language is that while other borrowed words from borrowed languages can stand on their own (after a little or with no modification nor change in form) and have meaning, the base words would need to be fused to either a prefix, infix or suffix so as to form a new word.

Note that base words borrowed from other languages can stand on their own. One reason why they are not classified as words with affixes, is that no matter the number of affixes fused to them, the newly derived words still portray the original meaning of the base morpheme. Examples of these are:

1.0 INTRODUCTION

In the previous unit you learned about affixes and word formation. You also learned about borrowed words from other languages that have become part of the the French language. This unit is a continuation of the previous unit. You will learn more about borrowed words, and the process of using prefixes and suffixes to form new words.

2.0 OBJECTIVES

By the end of this Unit you will be able to:

- (i) Know more about vocabulary development;
- (ii) Use suffixes to form words;
- (iii) Use prefixes to form words; and
- (iv) Use both suffixes, prefixes and other forms of words to make correct sentences in French.

3.0 MAIN BODY

3.1 Affixation

Apart from the borrowed words or borrowed base morphemes that constitute a large part of French vocabulary, affixation plays a very important role in formation of new words in French language. Affixation is the process by which a secondary morpheme (affix) is attached to a base morpheme. The affix is attached to the beginning, or to the end of the base morphemes. It is referred to as prefix if it is attached to the beginning of the word. If it is in the middle of the morpheme it is infix, at the end of the morpheme it is (suffix). The new word that is formed can be either a noun, adjective, verb or even an adverb. An example in English is “re-join-der”.

In French, the base morpheme allows its being fused to a prefix or to a suffix in order to form new words. Just like the borrowed base words that came from other various languages of the world, so French affixes (the prefix and the suffix) are also borrowed largely from other languages, mostly Latin and Greek. Examples are as follows:

3.4 Formation of Words through Parasynthesis

If by affixation, we mean a new word could be formed by either adding another morpheme to the beginning of the root morpheme (prefix) or to the end of the root morpheme (suffix), what about when a new word is formed by attaching prefix and suffix morphemes at the same time? We call this kind of affixation, parasynthesis. They are a special type of affixation whereby the root morpheme or the base is doubly affixed (both in prefix and in suffix). It could be described as a kind of hyper-affixation in the formation of new words. Examples could be found in verbs, adjectives and adverbs.

Herbe	→	désherber	(dés + herbe + er)
belle	→	embellir	(em + belle + ir)
branche		embranchement	(dés + herbe + er)
riche		enrichir	(en + riche + ir)
courage		décourager	(dé + courage + er)
heureux		malheureusement	(mal + heureuset + ment)
habit		désahabiller	(dés + habille + er)

You will note that parasynthesis could even serve as a new base or root morpheme for prefixes or suffixes to be added to them so as to form new words. For example:

Herbe	→	désherber	redesherber	desherbement
belle	→	embellir		embellissement
rich		enrichir		enrichissement
courage		encourager		encouragement
poison		empoisonner		empoisonnement

Self Assessment Exercise 1

Underline the prefix in these words

- (a) encourager (b) remonter (c) important
 (d) déjeuner (e) inexpressive

4.0 CONCLUSION

In this Unit you have learned more about borrowed words from other languages like Greek, Latin, Arabic and English into the French language. How prefixes and suffixes can be used to form new words.

5.0 SUMMARY

This unit has introduced you to the functions of affixes such as prefix and suffix and their borrowed words from other languages into French language. Subsequent units will be built on this.

1.0 INTRODUCTION

In the previous units, you learned about French vocabulary development, the infix, suffix and prefix. You have been taught about the French morpheme, its functions and how all these could be used to form different words in French.

In this unit, you will learn about the French sentence, structure and the classification of its different elements that make up the sentence.

2.0 OBJECTIVES

By the end of this unit you should be able to:

- (i) Classify the elements of French sentence;
- (ii) Analyse the functions of the grammatical elements in a French sentence; and
- (iii) Identify the nine elements of French grammar, articles, nouns, verbs, adjectives, adverbs, pronouns, prepositions, conjunctions and interjections.

3.0 MAIN BODY

3.1 Nine Elements of the French Grammar

The following is a grouping of the element entries you can identify in the first instance.

Substantifs	Bases	Expansions
1. Articles	5. Verbs	8. Conjunctions
2. Nouns	6. Adverbes	9. Interjections
3. Adjectifs	7. Preposition
4. Pronouns

These are the elements that we call variables in grammar. It is common knowledge that the above elements can undergo various forms of inflectional changes and modifications to reflect various conditions, possession, plurality, time and nature of reference, among others.

Let us consider the following sentences:

- 1) Les livres de Kofi / Kofi's books
(la possession de livre – objet pluriel)
- 2) Paul et Nana sont gentils / Paul and Nana are kind.
(verbe pluriel)
- 3) Mohammed a téléphoné à ses parents / Mohammed phoned his parents (une référence au passé)
- 4) Sanusi est un lion sur le champ / Sanusi is a lion on the farm
(Une référence au temps présent)
- 5) Ma femme est plus gentille que son amie / My wife is kinder than her friend
(Une phrase de comparaison)

In the above sentences, it is quite clear that nouns, verbs, adjectives and adverbs belong to a variable class. The elements also constitute a class in the sense that the choice of one item does not exclude the choice of other items of the same grammatical utterance. For example,

- 6) Maryam lit et comprend très bien / Maryam reads and understands quite well.
(Noun + Verbe + Conjunction + Adverbe + Adverbe)

- 7) Maryam, Haruna, Ojo, Kayode et Kodjo sont intelligents et humbles / Maryam, Haruna, Ojo, Kayode and Kodjo are intelligent and humble.
(Nom + Nom + Nom + Nom + Conjonction + Verbe + Adjectif + Conjonction + Adjectif)
- 8) L'éloquent grand garçon noir est arrivé tôt / The dark eloquent big boy arrived early.
(Article Modifiant + Adjectif + Adjectif + Nom + Adjectif)

Specifically, example 6, illustrates the fact that the choice of the verb – “lit” does not prevent the choice of another verb – “comprend” (coming after the conjunction et). The choice of the adverb très does not prevent the choice of another adverb – bien. Similarly, examples 7 and 8 show respectively that as many nouns as meaning can allow may be listed just as numerous adjectives can feature in the structure of the utterance.

Finally, there is the issue of “openness” in the term open class. This is justified because items within the group of elements can be added to infinitum because there can hardly be any time in our lives, we can rightly claim to be able to list all nouns, all verbs, all adjectives and all adverbs in any natural language, French, for instance. This situation is explicable in terms of the dynamic and changing nature of natural languages and the variations in situation, which determine and justify language use.

3.2 Closed System Elements

Closed system elements constitute the opposite of open class elements. Items in the closed system constitute a system in the following ways:

They share similar structural capabilities, the major one being that the choice of one item excludes the choice of other items within the category (g) for instance.

- 9) Il aime les grenouilles / He loves frogs (Prénoun + verbe + article + noun)
- 10) Le livre est sur la table / The textbook is on the table
(Un modificateur spécifique + noun + verbe + preposition + article + noun)
- 11) Abigail et Janet sont des belles filles / Abigail and Janet are beautiful girls.

(Nom + Conjonction + Nom + Verbe + Article + Adjectif + Nom)

- 12) Bravo! Et félicitations! On a combattu nos opposants / Bravo and congratulations! We have conquered our opponents.
(Interjection + Conjonction + Interjection + Prénom + Verbe + Prénom + Nom)

You can notice in examples (9) to (12), the choice of the pronoun il– , of the conjunction et in example (11), and of the interjections Bravo! and Félicitations! In example (12). Example (12) does not in each case, permit the consecutive choice of any other item within the same category.

Therefore , under normal circumstances you cannot say:

- 9 (b) Il le aime grénouilles
10(b) Le livre est Presque sur la table
11(b) Abigail et Janet mais pas Yetunde sont des belles.
12(b) Bravo! Oh! on a combattu nos opposants.

Examples (9b) to (12b) are largely meaningless unless they are taken to be exercises in which students of the language have to select from the options given, the one (s) which best fit (s) into a given context. Indeed, if students had to do such exercises, the entries would probably have been thus:

- 9 (b) Il/le/ils
10 (b) Sur / auprès de / sons
11(b) et / pourtant / mais
12(b) Bravo! Oh! Hurray!
15(b) Helas! / Oh! / Hurray!

You will observe that where two conjunctions occur consecutively in speech or in writing, for example

- 16 Et / encore
17 Et / quoique

One of them is usually superfluous as only one is required to create necessary linkage in the expression. Also, bear in mind that where two interjections feature in speech or in writing, it is always adequate to use one to express the excitement (as in example 15), or any other emotion, as the case may be.

- (i) Another reason for considering pronouns, prepositions, conjunctions and interjections to be within the closed system is that it is relatively less easy to “identify” items within this system when they occur in isolation. For example, if the word et, sur, Helas! Nos were pronounced to an anxious crowd, such a crowd would be left thoroughly frustrated as it would be relatively very difficult for them to “identify” the items, and assign meanings!
- (ii) There are two other items as listed earlier in section 3.1 above, which are often considered to belong to the closed system. These are demonstratives, for example, this, that and the specific and the non-specific, modifiers – the and un, une, l’ (sometimes referred to, in traditional terms, as the definite and indefinite articles). They share among others, the characteristics of not permitting a consecutive occurrence of its members in the structure of an utterance. For instance, with these sets of items we can have:

- 18) Le bic
- 19) un bic
- 20) cet garçon
- 21) ce homme

but cannot have

- 18(a) Le un bic
- 21(a) Cet un homme

- (iii) Another reason why pronouns, prepositions, conjunctions, interjections, articles and demonstratives are generally said to constitute a closed system is that they do not readily lend themselves to inflectional variation. For instance, forms like

- 22 “ets” plural of et
- 23 “maiss” plural of mais
- 24 “iled” non past tense of il
- 25 “ohit” past tense of oh!
- 26 “souss” plural of sous are unknown in the French language. With regards to the term “closed” used in characterizing this sub-group, we see justification in the fact that membership of this sub-group cannot be added to indefinitely. Closed system items are also highly restricted in number. For example, there are only three specific modifiers (definite articles). Le, la (l’) and les and only three non-specific modifiers (indefinite articles un, une, des, partitive articles).

In a similar way, we can, with minimum difficulty, list all pronouns, all prepositions, all conjunctions, all interjections and all demonstratives in French and perhaps many other languages. The items in this system are also restricted because it is not easy to readily create new conjunctions or new demonstratives in French for instance. The following illustrations will further highlight the difference between the two sets of items.

3.2.1 Open and Closed Systems Comparison

A	B	C	D	E	F
Il	(Ahmed)	Prend	Un	Bon	Plat

The illustration contains six words arranged in columns A – F. Columns A and D contain closed system items (a pronoun and a non-specific modifier) (indefinite article. Columns B, C, E and F contain open class items (noun, verb, adjective and noun). If you have to fill in items of the pronoun class to replace the pronoun, “he”, you would find the task impossible as there can be no time. You would rightly claim that you have listed all the relevant nouns, verbs and adjectives.

3.3 Approaches to the Analysis of the Elements

Grammatical elements in French may be analysed through the following approaches, traditional, positional, and inflectional.

As you will see in the following section, each of these approaches has its merits and problems.

3.3.1 The Traditional Approach

The French grammar element can be said to derive its element from a very important academic tradition known as “grammaire traditionnelle”. Traditional grammar depends on rules as the basis for its operation as was to be expected, there was always a clear distinction between what was “right” and what was “wrong”. The traditional approach accordingly incorporates this notion of “right” and “wrong”. This is why it is generally known to be prescriptive. It stipulates rules about how the various grammatical elements must be used irrespective of shifts of contexts or changes of situation. For example, the traditional approach states a noun is the name of a particular person, animal, place or things. In a number of cases this explanation may be considered adequate. In a sentence like...

27 John aime Pauline

You can see that John and Pauline are nouns – names of particular persons. However, when you have a sentence like:

- i) The joy she gave me is the beauty of my life
- ii) Eating is good for you.

28. Son retard habituel à l'école a offensé chaque Professeur.

It has been observed that more is being taught about the items, which occupy the nominal position and less about the name of a particular person, place or thing.

Similarly, traditional grammar indicates that a verb is a doing word. Some traditional definitions extend this to a verb is a doing or an action word. In practice, we know that the verb does a lot more than the functions traditionally associated with it.

4.0 CONCLUSION

In this unit, you learned about the French sentence structure and how the different elements can be classified. You have also learned how to make use of these elements in French sentences.

5.0 SUMMARY

This unit has introduced you to French sentence, structure and its elements. Subsequent units will build on this.

1.0 INTRODUCTION

You must have come across the classification of French sentences in the course of your study as either simple or complex. In this unit, you will learn more about simple types of sentences, like declarative sentence, interrogative sentence and imperative sentence.

2.0 OBJECTIVES

By the end of this unit you will be able to:

- (i) Identify the characteristics of each type of simple sentences; and
- (ii) Use the different types of sentences correctly.

3.0 MAIN BODY

3.1 Three Different Types of Sentences

a) Declarative Sentence

The declarative sentence is a type of sentence that is used to state ideas. It can be used to make a statement of fact or doubt. It can be expressed in a positive or negative forms, such as:

- Je suis infirmière
- Nous sommes des étudiants
- Olu ne te connaît pas
- Il fait beau temps
- C'est mon ami Aba

b) Interrogative Sentence

We use interrogative sentences to clear doubts. Interrogative sentences could either be marked by tone, lexical marker or even inversion marker. A tonal marker ends with high pitched sound. It is through the high pitched tonal mark that one would know that the sentence is a question for its structure looks like that of an affirmative sentence, e.g.

- Vous partez ce soir?
- Nous ne parlerions plus de cet événement?

Whereas a lexical marker of the interrogative sentence has some lexical items indicating a question e.g.

- Est-ce que vous partez ce soir?
- E-st-ce qu'on parlera de cet événement?

The lexical items "Est-ce que" in the two examples are the lexical markers of the interrogative sentence. Interrogative sentences which use inversion markers would only allow for the inversion of the subject-verb order of the sentence to verb-subject order. The tone will also rise at the end of the sentence to denote interrogation e.g.

- Partez-vous ce soir?
- Ne parlerions nous plus de cet événement?

We can also note an interrogative sentence as a yes-no question (thus asking an affirmative question) or the form of a negative sentence e.g.

- Vous sortez ce matin?
- Vous ne sortez pas ce matin?

c) Imperative Sentence

Any sentence that is used in giving out command and to express our surprise or disappointment is what we call imperative sentence. This type of sentence could also be in negative or positive form.

- Ne me regardez plus!
- S-ortez de la classe!
- C'-est finis entre nous!

3.2 Simple Sentence

A simple sentence could be broadly divided into two, the subject and the predicate. The performer and the action in any given sentence is the subject. The subject is the word or group of words that we speak about in a sentence while the predicate tells us about or what is done by the subject as in:

Dinatu + dort en classe

Elle + dort en classe

La petite Dinatu + dort en classe

In the above examples, you can see that Dinatu in the first example is a noun and the performer of the action expressed in the predicate is dort en classe. This noun being the same of any person, animal, place or thing be it physical or metaphysical, seen or abstract, could be replaced by a pronoun. We should note that a pronoun is any grammatical word that could be used instead of a noun. That is why the pronoun ‘elle’ could conveniently stand in for “Dinatu” at the same subject position. It is possible also for us to use some grammatical words to vividly describe the noun better for the understanding of the listener. This is where the adjective and other determinants come in. “La petite Dinatu”. All these elements occupy the subject position, while the predicate in the simple sentence could be divided into two, the base and the object. The base comprises of the grammatical word, that express the action performed (verb) and how it was performed (adverb) so instead of saying “Dinatu dort en classe”, we could say “la petite Dinatu marche lentement vers, le petit garçon”. We would discover that the verb is “marche”, the adverb is “lentement”. The preposition is “vers”, which could be seen as being part of the base is the link word between the verb (or verb plus adverb) and the second part of the predicate, which is the object. The object of a sentence, whether noun or pronoun, is the person or thing to whom the action done by the subject as expressed by the verb happened. So, we could have a single noun, pronoun or even a combination of noun and adjective as object of a sentence – “la petite fille”.

The implication of this analysis is that a noun, just like other components of a simple sentence, could be a single word or group of words. When these parts of speech are single, they are distinct but when each of them is made up of a group of words, they become phrasal.

A phrase is a group of words often without a finite verb of its own, and thus being unable to make a complete sense. It is a group of related words used as a single part of a speech. A phrase could be described in relation to the component parts of its structure. We could conveniently have at least five different types of phrases in French sentences, nominal, verbal, adjectival, adverbial and prepositional phrases. In French language, we call these phrases Groupe Nominal (GN), Groupe Verbal (GV), Groupe d'adjectif (GAJ), Groupe d'adverbe (GAD) and Groupe de Preposition (GPR).

3.3 Five Different Types of Phrases

a) Noun Phrase (Groupe Nominal)

A noun phrase comprises of a noun(s) and the qualifiers. A qualifier modifies, qualifies or even sets apart a noun from other nouns, determinants or qualifiers in any given sentence. A noun phrase could occupy the subject and the object positions, e.g.

Kalu le petit fils de madame Orji, vient de s'inscrire à l'université d'Ibadan pour étudier l'anglais.

You can see that the phrase is long, which could have been shortened to, "Kalu étudie l'anglais". But in order to describe Kalu being the subject, and anglais as the object, more qualifiers are added, these qualifiers are modifying either Kalu or anglais and are what helps in building the nominal phrases.

b) Verb Phrase (Groupe Verbal)

A verb phrase is made up of the main verb and its auxiliaries. The main verbs are either action verbs or linking verbs and the auxiliary may be used with either of the two kinds.

-Kalu aurait voulu faire l'anglais
 -Kalu a décidé de faire l'anglais
 -Kalu a fait l'anglais

The grammatical elements underlined are the verb and phrases in the sentences. Everything could be reduced to either "Kalu fait l'anglais" or "Kalu fit l'anglais"

c) Adjectival Phrase (Groupe d'Adjectif)

An adjectival phrase is a group of grammatical elements comprising of adjectives or even nouns functioning as modifier in a sentence. An adjective is usually the head of the adjectival phrase, and other adjectives will only be modifying the head adjective e.g.

- La plus jeune fille parle bien l'allemand
- Nadine a mangé la plus petite mangue bien mûre

The underlined words are the adjectival phrases. This group of words qualify the noun, and this group could stand either as the subject or object qualifier.

d) Prepositional Phrase (Group de Préposition)

When we talk of prepositional phrase, we mean a group of words, of which preposition is the head. In the prepositional phrase, the preposition propels some other words like nouns or adjectives. The fact that the head is a preposition makes the phrase a prepositional phrase e.g.

- Le chat sur le mur miole
- Le chat est sur le mur
- Le directeur a amené sa voiture au garage. Le plus proche.
- La pluie a commencé depuis le matin

e) Adverbial Phrase (Le Groupe D'Adverbe)

An adverbial phrase comprises of the head adverb and the other related words working as modifiers of the verb. The entire phrase would perform the function of the adverb in a sentence.

- Kola a reçu son ami dans une manière joyeuse
- Le caméleon part avec lenteur
- Je mange avec une rapidité incroyable

You can see that the underlined words could be replaced with one single adverb like joyeusement and rapidement. But the entire group of words are modifying more than a single adverb. These are the adverbial phrases.

Self Assessment Exercise 1

- a) What are the differences between an interrogative sentence and the imperative sentence?
- b) What type of sentences are these?
 - i) Je suis une étudiante rejetée
 - ii) Vous êtes marié?
 - iii) Aishatu n'ète pas en classe hier

4.0 CONCLUSION

In this unit, you have learned about types of sentences, such as interrogative, declarative, and imperative sentence.

5.0 SUMMARY

You have learned about types of sentences, mainly simple sentences and how to use them in grammar. Subsequent units will be built on this.

6.0 TUTOR-MARKED ASSIGNMENT

- 1) Justify how an imperative sentence can either be negative or interrogative.
- 2) How can you prove that a declarative sentence can be a negative sentence?
- 3) Indicate what type of sentences are the following:
 - i) Regardez quell chaleur!
 - ii) Vous êtes au marché?

Each correct answer carries 2½marks, the grand total=10marks

- a) An interrogative sentence could either be tonally marked, lexically marked or even inversion marked. It is through the presence of one of these that, one will know whether the sentence structure is interrogative or not. An imperative sentence is any sentence used in issuing out commands, or to express surprise or disappointment it is what we call imperative sentence, e.g.

Sortez de ma voiture!
Voyez cette image si belle?

- b) What type of sentences are these?
 - i) Phrase déclarative
 - ii) Phrase interrogative
 - iii) Phrase déclarature

1.0 INTRODUCTION

As discussed in the previous unit, a complex sentence is any sentence that expresses more than one idea. Thus, it has at least two or more verbs. One of the most common features of a complex sentence is its having different clauses (prepositions).

2.0 OBJECTIVES

By the end of this unit, you should be able to:

- (i) Identify a complex sentence;
- (ii) Identify a clause;
- (iii) Identify both independent and dependent clauses;
- (iv) Use each of the clauses in sentences correctly; and
- (v) Differentiate the false relative from the true relative.

3.0 MAIN BODY

3.1 What is a Clause?

A clause can be described as a group of grammatical words that could make a statement about someone or something. Unlike a phrase that cannot express a complete meaningfully sensible statement (for it does not have a verb of its own), a clause has a verb of its own and could thus stand by itself to express a complex thought. This thought, may then be independently complete in meaning and in logic or it may depend on some other additional grammatical words or another clause to have its full meaning. Each clause has its own subject and predicate. When we are talking about clauses in French language, we call them “les propositions”. For the purpose of this study, the word “clauses” or “propositions” could be interchangeably used for they mean the same thing or are referred to the same idea.

Clauses or propositions could be divided into two major classes.

- a) Independent clauses (les propositions, indépendentes)
- b) Dependent clauses (les propositions dépendentes)

3.1.1 Independent Clauses

An independent clause is a clause that could stand on its own and would not need any other grammatical words or clause to complete its thought so as to have a complete meaning, e.g.

Je suis professeur: j’enseigne la géographie.

Each of these juxtaposed sentences are independent of the other. Thus, they are independent clauses. It is this independent clause that some grammarians call principal clause. A principal clause or an independent clause (la proposition principale ou la proposition indépendante) can be a simple sentence, coordinating or joined sentence or even a juxtaposed sentence. Examples of these are:

- a) Je suis infirmière
- b) Je suis étudiante: Je suis en classe secondaire
- c) Je suis mécanicien et j’ai un garage

In the above sentence, the first sentence is an independent clause. In the second sentence, although there are two ideas, these two ideas are juxtaposed with the aid of the colon mark. Thus, each of them is independent of each other. The third sentence has two ideas, just like the second sentence. But rather than juxtaposing the ideas, we can see that coordinating conjunction ‘et’ is used to link the two principal clauses together. This type of clause is called coordinating principal or independent clause.

3.1.2 Dependent Clauses

A dependent clause (une proposition dépendante) is any clause whose complete meaning and logic in a sentence depends on another (principal dependant or independent) clause. It is a clause that needs other grammatical words or even another clause to complete its thought.

The thought or idea and the message expressed in this kind of clause will be incomplete in meaning and logic if the principal or the independent clause, that the dependent clause is relying upon, is removed. Some grammarians, viewing it from this perspective, refer to it as a secondary clause, e.g.

Quand ma soeur chante
Si je sors de la classe
Lorsque Maman me gronde.

One could start to wonder what happens next: When my sister sings in the above example {1}. A complete clause that serves as its principal clause needs to be introduced then. So we could have a complete sentence (both in thought and in message) like this:

Quand ma soeur chante, on lui donne beaucoup d'argent.

If a logical analysis is to be done on these two clauses, one could say that none of them is completely dependent. Unlike the example used to illustrate the independent clause: “Je suis professeur: et j’enseigne le français” whereby each of the clauses are independent of each other, and thus have a complete thought each, none of the two clauses in the example illustrating dependent clauses can.

- i) Principal clause (la proposition principale)
- ii) Subordinate clause (la proposition subordonnée)

Example :

Elle dormait quand je voudrais sortir

In the above example, elle dormait is the principal clause

Subordinate Clause

The subordinate clause is the secondary clause in a sentence. The idea expressed in the subordinate clause will wholly depend on the principal clause before it can have meaning. “Quand je voudrais sortir” is the subordinate clause in the above example. There are at least three types of (subordinate) dependent clauses in French Language and they are:

- a) Nominal Clauses
- b) Adjectival Clauses
- c) Adverbial Clauses

3.2 Nominal Clauses

A nominal clause is a dependent clause used as a noun in a sentence. The whole clause referred to as a nominal clause, just like a nominal phrase, would be able to perform the grammatical function of a noun in the chosen sentence. There are at least four types of nominal clause in French.

- i) Nominal Clauses with “Que”: This is a type of nominal clause formed with the aid of conjunction “Que”. Nominal clause formed in this process could occupy the subject or object position of a sentence just like an ordinary noun, e.g.

Subject

Qu’il avait volé l’argent est un croyable
 Que je sorte sans ma voiture, est-ce que tu penses

In most cases, a phrase like “le fait” is deleted. If it should be added, the nominal aspect of the phrase will show better – Le fait qu’il avait volé l’argent est incroyable

Direct Object

Je sais qu’il ne réussira jamais à l’examen
 Kehinde espère que tu viennes demain.

3.2.1 Interrogative Nominal Clauses

This type of nominal clause is interrogative in nature. But this interrogative is neither completely rhetorical nor direct questioning type. The common feature between it and interrogative sentences is that it makes use of interrogative pronoun like qui, comment, quel, que, si, etc. It could stand in also in the subject or object position, for example:

Subject

Comment elle le sais, je ne sais pas!
 Comment il serait convaincu, personne ne peut le deviner

Si elle sort aujourd'hui je le saurais

Objective

Personne ne peut expliquer comment il a réussi à l'examen
 La seule question c'est qui prendra le taureau par les cornes?
 Vous savez si mon mari est là?

3.2.2 Infinitive Nominal Clauses

This is a kind of nominal clause that has an infinitive as the head of the (nominal) clause. This infinitive could stand-alone or be preceded by preposition de, à, pour, par, sans, etc. It could occur in the subject or object position of the sentence.

Example :

Subject

- Manger cinq fois par jour est trop
- Monter d'un escalier à l'autre c'est fatiguant pour moi
- Pour réussir à l'examen n'est pas facile

Object

- Ma seule ambition c'est de réussir à cet examen.
- Ce que Abiola sait bienfaire est de manger trois fois par jour
- L'erreur qu'il a commise c'est pour m'avoir laissé sans argent.

3.2.3 Participe Présent Nominal Clauses

In this type of clauses the “present participle of the verb (most especially avoir or être) is used as the head of these clauses e.g.

- Ayant terminer le travail, il rentra chez lui.
- Etant fatigué de bavarder, elle se fait
- En mangeant du riz, il boit du café aussi
- Je l'ai vu en sortant du bureau
- Olu l'a entendu chantant la gloire du roi

It could be seen from the above examples that this type of clause could occur in both the subject and the object positions of a sentence. And note also that it can be preceded sometimes by the preposition “en”.

Adjectival Clauses

An adjectival clause is a dependent clause used as an adjective in a sentence. It qualifies a noun as does adjectives. And it also answers questions like which one, how many, how much, what kind, etc.

Example :

-Voilà la maison où j'habite

-Je vous présente le fusil avec quoi il a commis le crime

-C'est ma soeur qui sait bien danser

Each of the underlined adjectival clauses are qualifying nouns like “maison”, and “soeur” in the above examples. And the whole clauses could be conveniently replaced by single qualitative adjectives like “habitée”, “criminel” and “danseuse”.

Adverbial Clauses

The grammatical function of an adverbial clause in a sentence is to modify the main verb or even another adverb in a sentence. Just like proper adverbs, a dependent adverbial clause used as an adverb could indicate manner, time, place, degree, result or reason. For example:

Time: Aishatu se tait quand elle voit le professeur

Manner: Elles se sont battus comme les soldier le font au champ de bataille

Place: Vous serez arrêtez là où vous urinez

Reason: Le politicien donne à manger aux peuples pour qu'ils votent pour lui

Degree: Tolu ne fait pas bien à l'examen comme Tunde l'aurait fait

Result: Funsho avait bien fait à l'examen au point qu'on lui donne des bourses

Just as you could have two types of dependent clauses, subordinate clauses (Les propositions subordonnées) could also be divided into three clauses.

- a) Les subordonnées relatives
- b) Les subordonnées complétives
- c) Les subordonnées circonstancielle

Les Subordonnées Relatives

The relative subordinate clause shows the relationship between the subject or the object of the principal clause and the subordinate clause. The relative clause is (introduced by relative pronoun) in most cases by an antecedent, in form of noun or pronoun to which the relative pronoun or adverb of the clause will be referring, e.g.

Je regarde l'enfant qui mange

The clause “qui mange” is a relative clause referring to the object of the principal clause “l'enfant” and introduced by a relative pronoun “qui”. Relative clauses can be divided into two groups:

- 1) Les vraies relatives (the true relative clauses)
- 2) Les fauses relatives (the false relative clause)

1) True Relative Clauses (les vraies relatives): These type of clauses can never play the role of verb compliments but as compliment to any nominal or pronominal antecedent to which the relative pronoun of the relative clause will be referring e.g.

Voilà le bonhomme don't je vous parle
C'est Monsieur Ali qui est mon tuteur

This kind of clause could be sub-divided into two categories, namely:

Les vraies relatives determinatives
Les vraies relatives explicatives

- i) Les Vraies Relatives Determinatives: This is a kind of relative clause that is complete in nature. It gives its nominal or pronominal antecedent a kind of determinative classification that could make us tell it apart easily from any other ideas or persons e.g.

L'enfant qui est imbécile de naissance le trouvaient difficile à rien comprendre

L'homme qui est aveugle de naissance ne connaît point les images

Monsieur Tunde qui enseigne la grammaire ne sait pas jouer au tam-tam.

- ii) Les Vraies Relatives Explicatives: Just like the name implies, these kind of relative clauses give detailed, useful and necessary information on its antecedent so that we could recognize fully and easily what is said about this antecedent, e.g.

-Monsieur Daoudou, qui est le Directeur du village, vient d'être nommé ministre.

The sentence will have its full meaning. But in order to explain or describe well the particular Monsieur Daoudou we are talking about, the true explicative relative clause qui est le “Directeur du village” was introduced. This then brings us to a simple rule of generalization that “les vraies relatives explicatives” are in most cases a sort of opposition.

Note that all true relatives could be reduced to a participle, an adjective or even to a noun, thus playing the role of an attribute or an epithete in a sentence, e.g.

-Je regarde l'enfant qui mange” could then be

-Je regarde l'enfant mangeant

That the mode of true relative clauses is always in indicative or conditional, it can never for any reason be in the subjunctive mode.

- 2) False Relative Clauses (Les Fauses Relatives): The false relative clauses are the kinds that, although they look like relative clauses, they are not. Instead of their being complements to the nominal or pronominal antecedent of the first clause, this type of clauses play the role of being complement to circumstance. This is why some grammarians refer to them as “Les Relatives Circumstanciellles” or the circumstantial relative clauses. If care is not taken one could mistakenly take the circumstantial relatives to be true relative clauses.

Just like the true relative clause, this false relative clause could conveniently have antecedent, which is usually a noun, e.g.

Montrez-moi un sold et qui n'ait pas peur en face de la mort

Note that in the above examples, the clause “qui puisse réussir sans lire” is not to be seen in relation to the nominal antecedent. ‘L'enfant’: But it is referring to a circumstantial consequence that could befall any child that refuses to read. The same thing applies to the second example. The clause “qui n'ait pas peur de la mort”, is not a true relative clause referring to the nominal antecedent. ‘Un soldat’: But the clause is only saying the true circumstance of human condition, that is, the possibility of anybody, may be a soldier or civilian, to completely maintain his calm even at the point of death. They are then circumstantial (false relative) clauses. These fake or circumstantial (relative) clauses could refer to the following;

- a) The cause of an action (la cause)
-Son oncle qui vient de payer une poste radio est particulièrement fier

One cannot say that the clause “qui vient de payer une poste radio” indicates the reason or the cause of the uncle’s pride (parce qu’il vient de payer une poste radio)

- b) The Objective (le but)

-Je cherche un homme qui m’apprenne à conduire

The objective of my looking for a man in the first clause is explained well in the circumstantial.

Relative clause: that could teach me how to drive (pour qu’il m’apprenne à conduire)

- c) The Concession (La Concession)

-Les politicians africains, qui soient des nationalists. Africains prenaient cependant plaisir à détruire le continent.

One would understand this concessional circumstantial clause, if one should introduce a conjunction like ‘quoi que les politicians africains soient des nationalists africains ...

- d) The consequence (La Consequence)

Je cherche un étudiant “qui puisse réussir sans lire
J’aime celui qui n’obeisse sans me forcer à crier tons les temps

- e) The Condition (A Condition)

Je refuserais d’accepter. Comme ami, un homme qui soit imbécile

The clause “qui soit imbécile” is the condition at which the speaker would refuse the friendship of a man (sil soit imbecile)

Note that the mode of circumstantial (false) relative clauses is subjunctif in most cases.

Having learnt so much about the different types of complex sentences, complete this exercise.

Self Assessment Exercise 1

Indicate against each sentence whether it is an independent clause, dependent clause or subordinate clause.

- a) Elle partait quand je rentrais
- b) Fatima est infirmière
- c) Je suis mariée et j'ai deux enfant
- d) quand mon bébé pleure.
- e) Si on m'attaque.

4.0 CONCLUSION

This unit has taught you all you need to know about complex sentences and their clauses.

You can conveniently write and identify complex and simple sentences and their clauses. You also were taught about the true and the false relatives and the true relatives, nominal and adverbial clauses, etc.

1.0 INTRODUCTION

In the previous units, you learned about French vocabulary and you have learned about how they are formed. In this unit, you will learn about reading and the reason for reading.

2.0 OBJECTIVES

By the end of this study you should be able to:

- (i) Read some French texts or some things written in French;
- (ii) Identify the meaning of some French words;
- (iii) Identify different forms, genres and styles; and
- (iv) Build your vocabulary through the texts you read.

3.0 MAIN BODY

3.1 Reading

Reading is a complex process that provides a bridge between speech and writing. In learning to read texts in French, you will build on the knowledge and skills you have developed through oral communication. Reading French texts offers you the opportunity to practice the oral aspects.

A well-balanced programme will provide you with opportunities to read for comprehension, consolidation of language, which you have learned orally, vocabulary building, information, enjoyment and practice correct pronunciation and intonation.

3.2 Let's Look at the Following Text

Un Lauréat se Presente

En août 1996, à Atlanta, un jeune noir, sud-africain, âgé de vingt cinq ans, du nom de Josia Thugwane, remporte, contre toute attente, la victoire au marathon, une des courses les plus prestigieuses des jeux olympiques. Mais qui est ce jeune homme auparavant inconnu? Le voici qui se présente.

Le journaliste: “Félicitations, Monsieur Thugwane. Nos lecteurs s’interessent à vous-même?”

M. Thugwane: Je suis né dans une petite ville à deux heures de Johannesburg. Actuellement, je travaille pour une compagnie minière. Après avoir renoncé à une carrière de footballeur, j’ai commencé à pratiquer la course sans entraîneur, dans les collines du Transvaal de l’est. Ce n’est qu’au surs d’un stage de préparation de six semaines au Nouveau-Méxique que, pour la première fois, des entraîneurs m’apportent leur soutien. Ils sont très efficaces. Toutes les jeunes recrues, ils les font travailler très dur. Ils leur font faire de nombreuses exercices pour s’améliorer.

Le journaliste: “Avant de terminer pourriez-vous nous parler de vos ambitions vis-à-vis du marathon et donner quelques conseils aux jeunes?”

M. Thugwane: À l’avenir je compte encore participer au marathon. Quand aux jeunes, je Souhaiterais leur apprendre que faire du sport, c’est s’entraîner l’esprit à se discipliner.

Le journaliste: Merci beaucoup, Monsieur. Au revoir. “J’adis simple fonctionnaire local. M. Thugwane est désormais un athlète de pointe don’t la victoire a, en outre, valeur de symbole: reconnaître l’Afrique du sud comme force dans les courses de fond et confirmer aux sud-Africains que les homes sont égaux.

Self Assessment Exercise 1

Having gone through the text, read it a second time, identify difficult words.

You can now see how the difficult words have been underlined, and then explained. As you continue to read any type of text in French, you are expected to jot down the difficult words and check their meaning up in the bilingual dictionary for clearer explanation.

- c) Manger, c'est se donner de l'énergie
- d) Apprendre, c'est détruire l'ignorance.
- e) Se dominer, c'est être soumis à quelqu'un.
